

ALDERMEN TO SEE POLICE BOARD ON PAY CUT PROPOSAL

Accept Kiel's Invitation to Present Plan Tomorrow for Voluntary 10 Per Cent Reduction.

EX-MAYOR DUBIOUS OF SUGGESTION

Fears Effect on Department's Morale — Thinks Balancing Budget Not All-Important.

Henry W. Kiel, president of the Police Board and former Mayor, talked to the Board of Aldermen this afternoon about the Aldermen's request that the Police Department should "go along with" the city's budget-balancing movement, by a voluntary 10 per cent cut in policemen's pay.

Kiel invited the Aldermen to attend the Police Board meeting tomorrow afternoon, and lay their request before the whole Police Board. The invitation was accepted.

"There is a fine spirit in the Police Department now," Kiel said. "St. Louis is as free of crime as any large city. The members of the force are working earnestly, and I hesitate to suggest to them a cut in their pay, for fear of the possible effect on the morale of the department."

When Police Got $90 a Month. "When I was Mayor, I remember that policemen were getting $90 a month, very insufficient pay in a period of high prices, when stenographers were making $125 a month. The police came to my office, to ask the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to increase their pay, and we had to tell them that they must wait for the Legislature to raise their pay. They went to the Legislature and got their pay increased. Now we are asked to suggest to the policemen that they cut their pay voluntarily, because the city needs the money, without any reference to the Legislature. The members do not seem to think this is fair."

"The Police Board cut its estimate (by about $200,000) at the request of the Board of Estimate, and later cut it $150,000 more, in the item of civilian employees' wages, at this body's request. But when you ask a further cut, I would rather not so all-important as you seem to think. When I was Mayor we ran a deficit several years, and one year, if we hadn't suddenly received a big payment of the overdue mill-tax money from the street car company, the deficit would have been really $2,000,000. But we didn't propose to have the hospitals run short, or to have other essential services crippled. I suggest that you shouldn't lose sleep about this matter of striking an exact balance."

Kiel asked the Aldermen, in attending the Police Board meeting, not to bring the Bureau of Municipal Research, "or other efficiency experts," with them. He discussed the recent report of the bureau, a private research agency, on city-owned automobiles, as it related to the Police Department.

"They wanted us to buy all 'Ford's,' he said. 'You have to have high-priced cars to chase crooks.' They wanted all police cars standardized. If we do that, the plain clothes men might as well be put into uniforms. 'We have every car inspected after every trip, and keyed up, because the next run it makes may be at 90 miles an hour. Our requirements, in that respect, are like the Fire Department. The bureau proposed that the police keep their cars in the city garage, when we have to take them out at a moment's notice. In the police garage, you might see some men loafing, but the call may come at any moment for them to go out. One of our cars may run around two weeks looking for one man, but the main point is to find that man. Efficiency experts don't figure on those things."

Judges Hanging Back. The Bureau of Municipal Research has been actively urging that the Police Department, and other State departments paid from city funds, should "go along" with the city-controlled departments, in a general 10 per cent pay cut. The basic police salary is now $119 a month, for patrolmen. The bureau figures that this far made by the Police Board at 3.3 per cent. The Circuit Judges have also been invited to "go along," but have not responded.

Chairman Reminders of the Election Board gave the Aldermen a jocular thrill when he told them, yesterday afternoon, that they could cut the election and registration items from $175,000 to $105,000. He said the board would get along on the latter figure if no special elections were called, or other extra duties imposed in addition to the two elections, primaries and registration periods included in this fiscal year.

This was the kind of "goings on" that the Aldermen were looking for. It was followed by announcements from two other officials in the State group, License Collector Chapman and City Treasurer Buechner, who were willing to accompany the Aldermen in a 10 per cent relinquishment.

along" that the Aldermen were looking for. It was followed by announcements from two other officials in the State group, License Collector Chapman and City Treasurer Buechner, who were willing to accompany the Aldermen in a 10 per cent relinquishment.

Justice of Peace Joins In. Justice of the Peace George Grasmuck also said he would "go along," though his salary of $1000 a year, it seemed to him, would hardly bear trimming as well as would the $8000 salary of a Circuit Judge. But he said the constables, who make $125 a month and have to keep automobiles, at their own expense, to make their rounds of duty, should not be asked to take any less. Constable Robert Hanna appeared and made a like argument.

Most of the talking, at yesterday afternoon's hearing, was done by Robert B. Brooks, Director of Streets and Sewers, and E. R. Kinsey, president of the Board of Public Service. Brooks estimated that the cut in his department's appropriation, from $2,435,000 spent last year to $1,750,000, was 25 per cent. Deputy Comptroller Gunn said last year's expenditure had included some special work in paving cut-offs, and that the reduction in general maintenance funds was only 20 per cent.

For Less Street Cleaning. Brooks said that, whether the cut was figured his way or Gunn's, it would cripple the department. But when Alderman Studt pounced on the item of $365,000, or, as he put it, $1000 a day, for street cleaning, and proposed that $100,000 be taken out and given to the hospitals, Brooks made a gesture of despair. "I've taken this 25 per cent cut willingly," he said, "but don't cripple me any further."

Studt, Wimer and Watters expressed the view that there were too many traffic signs now, and that the $30,000 item for signs might not be necessary. Brooks told them St. Louis was making a record among cities for decreasing its automobile fatalities. Kinsey Fears "Hysteria."

President Kinsey said his office, which serves as a general planning headquarters for the public service departments, had been cut 35 per cent. Although bond issue work has slowed down, he said there was work for his force of engineers and draftsmen, and he was dismayed at the prospect of having to lay off about 15 men.

"There is a good deal of hysteria in this talk of balancing the budget," Kinsey said. "Balancing the budget has become a sort of slogan. Two years ago the demand was to keep every man at work, and make work for people; now we have gone to the opposite extreme and are cutting down and cutting out everything, to throw people out of work." He said he would "go along" in the salary cut, though he did not consider that he and other city officials were overpaid.

Muench Falls in Line. City Counselor Muench said he would accept a cut, but he also asserted that city officials were not highly paid, and suggested a comparison of their salaries with those of vice presidents of the larger banks, or the executives of the Chamber of Commerce. Muench told of reducing the staff of the condemnation division, but said that W. C. Bernard, technical adviser, was still needed, and that Charles J. Dolan, tax attorney, who serves the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and various city officials in tax matters, should be retained.

HUGHES REMINDS LAWYERS OF THEIR DUTY TO SOCIETY

Protection Against Corrupting Influences Paramount Problem Today, Chief Justice Says in Speech.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Declaring that "discouragement pays no dividends," Chief Justice Hughes today told the American Law Institute that this "is not a time for relaxing effort but for redoubling it."

"These are hard days, critical days," he added, "but they are days in which it is worth while to live and toll-stirring days!" Saying the influence of the members of the Law Institute "pervades every community," Hughes congratulated them on their opportunities for upholding the "supremacy of law" and added:

"How is society to protect itself against the corrupting influences which tend to render it impotent to perform its primary obligations? That is the paramount problem of today."

"The bar with its special knowledge has a grave responsibility to furnish expert guidance and determined leadership in dealing with this problem. The bar has the capacity not only to instruct but to energize. It controls the needed leverage of acumen and experience."

Wickersham a Speaker.

George W. Wickersham, president of the Institute, emphasized in his annual address "the necessity of a careful study of our penal laws, with a view to determining whether or not they are reasonably adapted to social conditions in a time like the present."

The former Attorney-General called on the membership of the institute to study the laws of crime not only with a view to definition but also in regard to their effect on society as a whole.

"That our present laws fail to prevent a large and varied amount of crime must be obvious to all intelligent observers," he said. "Too often, the only result of punishment is to create and saddle professional criminals as life-long burdens on society."

Under modern systems of probation and parole, when properly administered, have yielded results much more favorable to the protection of society than reformatory treatment, or long terms of imprisonment."

Hughes' Tribute to Holmes.

Reviewing his experience as a member of the Supreme Court, Hughes said this year "will be especially memorable because it marks the retirement of Justice Holmes, beloved and revered, thus bringing to a close a career unique in judicial annals, and the coming of Justice Cardozo in the full tide of exceptional powers."

"No one is now upon that bench who extended to me a welcoming hand when I took the oath as Associate Justice a little over 21 years ago," Hughes said, explaining that since then two Chief Justices have begun and completed their service and there have been 12 appointments of associate justices.

"But with all these changes and despite differences in points of view and conflict of opinion," he continued, "one increasing purpose runs—'to maintain the integrity of a constitutional system designed to keep Government within its assigned limits and, in the interest of an ordered liberty, to establish the rule of reason in organizing and applying declared principles.'"

Pollockman's Son Hurt in Fall. Harold F. Mitchell Jr., 7-year-old son of Patrolman Mitchell, suffered a probable fracture of the spine when he fell from a porch to concrete steps leading to the basement of the Mitchell home, 2902 East Warner avenue, last night. He is at City Hospital.

GASTON B. MEANS HELD FOR $100,000 SWINDLE IN LINDBERGH INQUIRY

yesterday after being sworn to by a Government investigator.

The investigation was made under direction of John M. Keith of the Bureau of Investigation.

Lindbergh Gave Consent. Albert W. Fox issued the following statement on behalf of Capt. Land:

"After a conference with Mrs. McLean early in March I visited Col. Lindbergh and Col. Breckenridge and explained to them that Mrs. McLean had offered to help in the search for the Lindbergh baby."

Col. Lindbergh and Col. Breckenridge both gave their approval and authorized me to so inform Mrs. McLean. This I promptly did early in March. I have naturally been in close touch with Mr. to the cause of the baby, and have been able to furnish a faint chance of uncovering any information of value."

Means has been a notorious figure in Washington in recent years. After finishing his three-year term in Atlanta prison, in July, 1928, he furnished the material with which Mrs. May Dixon Thacker wrote the book, "The Strange Death of President Harding." Mrs. Thacker has since repudiated Means, and has stated that he made many promises to furnish documentary proof of his statements, but kept none of these promises. In the book, which had a wide sale, Means professed to have done detective work for Mrs. Harding, during her husband's period in the presidency, and drew conclusions from the death of President Harding's death in San Francisco, and as to the later deaths of Mrs. Harding and Dr. Charles Sawyer, which have had no substantiation from other sources.

Lindbergh Negotiator Off on Another Trip.

NORFOLK, Va., May 5.—The yacht Marcon, carrying negotiators for the return of the Lindbergh baby on another of its mysterious cruises, sailed from its berth today at the Naval base.

The cruise was planned for today by John Hughes Curtis, principal negotiator, after his return last night from his fifth trip by water. Early this morning Lieut. George L. Richard, Naval officer working with the Norfolk boat builder, conferred with the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, another intermediary.

"We are still hoping for the best," the clergyman replied when asked if they were encouraged. It was reported that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, absent from his New Jersey home for a number of days, is here aiding in the negotiations.

Soviet Oil Output Gains 10 Pct.

By the Associated Press. MOSCOW, May 5.—Oil production in Soviet Russia for the first quarter of 1932 amounted to 35,469,838 barrels (42 gallons to the barrel), representing an increase of 10.5 per cent over that for the corresponding period last year.

Japanese military authorities announced tonight that they had ordered their troops to begin a withdrawal from the positions they now occupy into the International Settlement and the adjacent areas.

SHANGHAI PEACE PACT SIGNED BY CHINA AND JAPAN

Mikado's Troops to Be Withdrawn Into International Settlement Except as Specified.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, May 5.—Representatives of China and Japan signed a peace treaty, officially ending the hostilities which began here last January.

The text of the agreement was not made public immediately, but it was understood to specify that Japanese troops be withdrawn to the International Settlement and the road nearby, adjacent to Hongkew. It was said that some Japanese troops would be left in specified areas between Hongkew and Woosung, because of the impossibility of billeting the entire Japanese armed force within the International Settlement.

The Japanese withdrawal, it was understood, would begin within a week and would be completed within the following month. Thus it appeared that the Chinese had won their demand that Japanese troops retire into the International Settlement and that the Japanese has won on their point that some of their soldiers remain in the vicinity of Hongkew and Woosung. It appeared also that Japan had succeeded in avoiding a definite time limit for withdrawal.

Mamoru Shigemitsu and Kenkichi Uryeda, Japanese delegates to peace parleys at which the agreement was reached, were still in the hospital today as a result of injuries suffered in a bomb attack last week. Quo Tai-chai, the Chinese negotiator, was attacked Tuesday by a group of students who charged him with being about to sign an agreement detrimental to China.

The treaty was taken successively to the International Settlement, the French Concession and to Chinese territory. Sir Miles W. Lampson, British Minister, who sponsored the negotiations which led up to the agreement, signed it first.

The signatures of the representatives of other friendly Powers also were affixed at the British Consulate, except that of the French Minister, who was ill. He signed it at his home in the French Concession. Quo Tai-chai signed at his home and finally the treaty was taken to the hospital where Shigemitsu signed for Japan.

Surgeons amputated Shigemitsu's right leg today.

Japanese military authorities announced tonight that they had ordered their troops to begin a withdrawal from the positions they now occupy into the International Settlement and the adjacent areas.

HIGHER TAXES ON INCOMES VOTED BY SENATE COMMITTEE

is every likelihood that it will be taken apart and rewritten.

One element which has yet to make its influence felt in the framing of the measure is the Progressive group, which favors raising the most of the new revenue by making drastic increases in the taxes on large incomes and inheritances. This group, led by Senator Norris of Nebraska, is sure to make a determined effort to make that goal when the bill is presented to the Senate.

Taxes on tires or import duties on rubber were among the propositions under consideration as the weary committee reassembled for an afternoon session. After shouting down further proposals for changes in the complex bill, the committee agreed to cut down the 25 per cent admissions tax for prize fights to 10 per cent but the 45 cents exemption on these tickets was removed.

Walsh of Massachusetts said of the committee's action yesterday in writing tariffs into the bill: "There is some heavy politics going on. No one wants to be blamed for the tax increasing legislation. Every one wants to see it enacted. There are three groups of thought in the committee and in the Senate."

"First, those who think the revenue necessary to balance the budget, in addition to income taxes, corporate taxes and gift and estate taxes, should come from a widespread distribution of so-called nuisance, admission and luxury taxes."

"Second, those who favor, instead of nuisance and luxury taxes, a manufacturers' sales tax; and third, those who support a combination of tariff duties and luxury taxes."

"It is becoming apparent that a situation may arise where no tax will be passed by the Senate unless one of these groups assumes leadership. Up to the present time the leadership has been directed by those who sought to draft the bill along the lines of the House bill, which made by the balance of the deficit through nuisance and luxury taxes."

"The action of the Senate Finance Committee in including tariff duties has shifted the leadership from the first group to the so-called tariff group."

"It looks to me now as if the fate of the bill depends upon shaping the bill by the tariff protection group and that they will have to pick up the necessary votes and assume the leadership."

"In any event, some one of these three groups will have to find a leadership backed by a majority of the Senate."

Gets 10 Years for Robbery.

Ed Loving, a Negro, 33 years old, was sentenced to 10 years in the State Penitentiary today by Circuit Judge Peary when he pleaded guilty to two robberies. Loving held up Harry Gaddy, street car conductor, March 3 at Spring and Enright avenues and robbed him of $7. Four days later he robbed another conductor, W. W. Warneke, of $17, at the same intersection.

COAST GUARD MACHINE GUN FIRE WOUNDS LIQUOR RUNNER

Engineer of Speed Boat Shot Wounded. Warning from One-Pounder Is Ignored.

By the Associated Press.

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 5.—The 60-foot speed boat Scipio, Bridgeport, an alleged liquor runner, was captured off Fisher Island after one of her crew had been wounded severely by a machine gun bullet from a Coast Guard boat.

The wounded man, known to the shipmates only as Charlie, was shot in the head, the bullet fracturing his skull.

Coast Guardsmen, who brought the Scipio to New London early today, said she carried 400 cases of liquor. Besides the wounded man, who was the boat's engineer, the crew consisted of Capt. James Knowles, New Bedford, Mass.; Thomas A. Stone, Fairfield, Conn.; and John White, Bridgeport. Officials said the service was resorted to machine gun fire after the Scipio had ignored several warning shots from a one-pounder.

DOLLAR IS STEADIER IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET

U. S. Government Securities to Recover; Stocks Rally Slightly After Reaction.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 5.—A steady recovery in United States Government securities and a somewhat steadier dollar in the foreign exchange market occurred today.

Stocks after an early reaction, moved slowly.

Treasury certificates and Liberty bonds recovered much, if not all of yesterday's sharp losses and were actively dealt in. France sagged at the opening, but under the point at which her gold shipments would be payable, but recovered their lost Dutch guilders, another promise of gold currency that has been made against the dollar, was off slightly.

MACDONALD'S RIGHT EYE OPTRATED ON SUCCESSFULLY

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 5.—Official announcement was made this evening that a successful operation had been performed on Prime Minister MacDonald's right eye.

Recently surgeons operated on the other eye to relieve a condition known as glaucoma. It was a successful operation but the condition extended to the right eye and the surgeons decided to operate again. Otherwise MacDonald's health is normal. The doctors said there is no threat of blindness but that the patient probably will be incapacitated for about six weeks.

Clarence Darrow Makes Plea on Behalf of Lieut. Massie and Three Others Who Served One Hour.

WANTS CITIZENSHIP RESTORED TO THE

Petition for Commutation Which Was Granted Signed but Not Withdrawn by Defense, He Says.

By the Associated Press.

HONOLULU, May 5.—A full pardon for the four defendants in the Massie murder trial was asked Gov. Lawrence M. Judd today.

Clarence Darrow, defense attorney, at the same time Darrow was more discussing the plea of the petition yesterday by the Governor, was signed but not withdrawn by the defense. The granting of the petition freed Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Mrs. Granville Fort and two naval enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and E. J. $2,000,000 FAKE DU PONT STOCK SEIZED; 5 HELD

New York Police Seize Counterfeits, Paper, Inks and Printing Apparatus in Surprise Raid.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 5.—Police seized counterfeit copies of $2,000,000 worth of E. I. du Pont de Nemours stock in a surprise raid yesterday. The seizure was made in a loft at 503 West Forty-third street.

Five men were taken into custody today. After a night of questioning four of them were booked on charges of forgery. They were Jack Cohen, 38 years old, a salesman; Anthony Pittola, 32, a manufacturer; and Daniel Dekoven, 31, an artist, all of New York, and Willard Richman, 32, of Philadelphia. The fifth man, John Fitzgerald, 40, an engraver of New York, was held for further questioning.

Two printing presses, a quantity of colored inks, five plates and other printing apparatus were seized.

The counterfeit stock certificates included 50 completed 100-share certificates and 600 partly finished. Police Commissioner Mulrooney said the finished certificates were identical with genuine ones in design, lettering and kind of paper, the only noticeable difference being in the water mark.

An authentic 100-share certificate, apparently bought in the open market for use as a model, was found in the plant.

Two men were taken to Police Headquarters today, by Assistant District Attorney Garrison. One was said to have been the financial backer of the venture.

Actress Gets Divorce by Mail.
By the Associated Press.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 5.—Miriam Hopkins, movie actress, obtained a so-called mutual consent divorce in Mexico last March from Austin Parker, playwright, Attorney Manuel Ruiz, who represented her, said last night. Ruiz said the divorce, sought on grounds of incompatibility, was granted at Juarez, Chihuahua, one week after the complaint had been airmailed to the court in that city.

DIES IN VAIN ATTEMPT TO SAVE MAN WHO FELL IN TANK OF GAS
Engineer Loses Life at Lima, O., in Trying Rescue at Sewage Disposal Plant.

By the Associated Press.
LIMA, O., May 5.—An attempted rescue by Earl Roberts, 42 years old, engineer, of Toledo, led to his death here late yesterday, and the man he tried to save, Ernest Aronholt, 44, of Lima, died a few hours later. Both were victims of poisonous gas in a tank at the new Lima sewage disposal plant. Aronholt, inspector for the City Engineering Department, suffered a fractured skull when he was overcome and fell in the tank. Roberts, chief designed for the H.

P. Jones Co. of Toledo, builders of the plant, ran a quarter mile in answer to an employee's call for help, but collapsed and died as soon as he entered the gas-filled chamber.

"DON'T LET 'EM KID YOU"

ONE of the two main reasons why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind has always been safety.

Other tire-makers know this. They know it so well that in their natural eagerness for sales they are tempted to claim safety too.

But there's a long jump between claiming safety on paper and building it into rubber.

Ridges, grooves, knobs on the side of a tire may be ornamental, but they're about as useful as the buttons on a coat sleeve.

IF YOU want grip instead of slip in the tire you buy, there's just one place to look for it.

Look at the center of the tread, where it contacts the road.

That is where other tires put continuous sled-runner ribs of rubber.

That is where Goodyear puts the big, thick, deep-cut, sure-gripping blocks of the All-Weather Tread.

MARK this difference well—for it can mean to you the choice between coasting helplessly into an accident—or stopping safely when you want brakes and tires to grip tight and hold fast.

What tire is best?

A nation-wide vote covering every state, shows a preference for Goodyears 24 times that of the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes

Why buy a second-choice tire when FIRST-choice costs no more?

This year, Goodyear has made the world's best known safety tread even better, by combining safety and silence in the new Noiseless Non-Skid All-Weather Tread.

Don't let anybody kid you. If you want safety in the tires you buy, get safety you can see.

Buy Goodyear Tires with the All-Weather Tread—they have traction in the tread-center, where it belongs!

MUST PAY FOR STOCKS HE REFUSED TO ACCEPT

Customer Loses Suit Originating in Collapse of Market
in 1929.

A verdict of $4088, with interest
at 6 per cent, was returned by a jury in Circuit Judge Taylor's court
yesterday in favor of Herrick J.
Gray & Co., brokers, against Louis
A. Simon, a leather dealer. It is based on the refusal of Simon, a customer of the firm, to accept 200
shares of common stock of Cities Service Co. which he had ordered just before the stock market collapse in 1929.

The company alleged in a suit
for recovery that Simon had directed it to buy the stock at $59¼ a share. However, before the certificates arrived prices dropped and when Simon declined to receive the shares the company sold them at $39, the prevailing market quotation. It charged the difference against Simon, which he declined to pay.

Simon contended delivery was not made promptly, the delay resulting in the loss; further that the brokers made a secret profit
through having the trade hedged
by a dealers' syndicate, of which they were a member. He said this arrangement was not disclosed to him and was not pursuant to his understanding.

Gray, head of the firm, declared that such a trade made through a dealers' syndicate was a usual method. The syndicate's commission was paid by the firm and was not charged to the customer, he added.

In regard to the delay in delivery he pointed out that Simon had requested to have the shares transferred to his name, and, when an order for delivery is sent to the transfer agent, the deal passes out of the broker's control. At the time in question transfers, Gray explained, were from three to six weeks behind because of large volume of stock sales.

Similar suits against other customers, filed by Gray & Co. are pending. Gray estimated the total amount of the claims at $90,000,
all originating from the market decline.

ANOTHER OHIO SPECIAL SESSION

Governor Wants Legislature to Approve U. S. Loans to Banks.

By the Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—A special session of the Ohio Legislature, the second in six weeks, was called last night by Gov. White for May 16 to amend State banking laws and permit Ohio banks in financial difficulties to borrow from the Federal Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The money obtained from the corporation will enable the State superintendent to declare dividends
for depositors and other creditors
of banks, without sacrificing assets
of involved banks by liquidating
them at current low appraisals.
Under the plan, the State superintendent will borrow from the corporation and pledge assets of the banks as security.

PUBLISHERS OPPOSE HIGHER POSTAL RATE

Association Warns Senate Group Second Class Rise Will Reduce Revenue.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 5.—The American Newspaper Publishers Association has sent to the Senate Finance Committee a statement that the increase in second class postal rates would have "exactly the opposite effect" from increasing revenues. The committee voted this week to increase the rates on second class matter, which includes newspapers, to the rates which were applied in 1921.

Elsha Hanson, attorney for the association in his letter to Chairman Smoot said the publishers had been given no opportunity to present their views and he had been instructed to place them before the chairman.

"In brief," he said, "they are as follows:

"If your purpose be to increase the revenues of the Government, your action, if approved by the Congress, will have exactly the opposite effect. If your purpose be to relieve the Postoffice Department of a costly service, your proposal will not accomplish that end."

1921 Rates Failed to Bring Rise.

"The 1921 rates were a part of the program laid down in the war revenue act of 1917 to obtain increased revenues for war purposes. Four successive increases in second class rates were authorized to become effective on July 1, 1919, July 1, 1920, July 1, 1921, and July 1, 1921.

"The first two increases produced vastly greater revenues without diminishing the volume of the mail carried. The third passed the saturation point. Volume fell off and revenues increased but slightly. The fourth or the 1921 rates not only failed to increase revenues but drove millions of pounds of publications from the mails. Very little, if any, of this volume has been restored.

"The effect of these rates is particularly important in view of the fact that they so adversely affected the department's revenues at a time when both circulation and advertising were increasing by leaps and bounds. Had the mathematical calculations of their advocates been correct, these rates should have produced increases in revenues of from 12½ per cent to 25 per cent.

Will Reduce Revenue.

"Today, we are in a period of decreasing circulation and advertising lineage. Circulation has fallen off in the last three years by approximately 10 per cent. Advertising lineage has decreased more than 20 per cent, and in the case of certain publications with large mailing lists, much more than 20 per cent.

"During the last 12 years, as many new agencies of transportation and distribution have entered into competition with the department that today, the Postoffice gets only that volume of newspaper distribution for which no competitive service is offered.

"Newspaper publishers have sought no special favors from the Congress during its consideration of the tax problem. They seek none now. But they do oppose a policy, which ostensibly urged for the purpose of raising revenue, will only serve to reduce the Government's revenues without reducing its expenses correspondingly, and injure not only publishers but millions of American citizens."

BIRTH CONTROL OPPOSED BY AFRICAN M. E. BISHOPS

Prelates at Quadrennial Convention Also Denounce Companionate Marriage.

By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, O., May 5.—The bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church in their addresses to the quadrennial convention of the church yesterday denounced companionate marriage and said the human race could not remain strong if birth control were allowed.

Discussing the economic situation of Negroes, the address said: "In this terrible condition some jobs we used to have exclusively have been lost. Added to this is the often hostile attitude of the Federation of Labor and the local unions which closes many skilled trades such as electrical work, plumbing, building, transportation and even carpentering. We cannot drive a street car or a garbage wagon in many cities."

WOMAN FLYER AIDS IN MURDER DEFENSE

Consults Attorney for Capt.
Lancaster Accused of Killing Her Fiance.

By the Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., May 5.—Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviator, has joined in planning a defense for Capt. W. N. Lancaster, her British flying partner, in jail on a warrant charging him with the murder of her young fiance, Haden Clarke.

"Everything brought out in the case has made Bill (Lancaster) look bad," the woman flyer said yesterday as she worked with Lancaster's attorney on preliminary defense plans. "There are a thousand things to be brought out in fairness to him that are yet undisclosed."

The grand jurors concluded their inquiry into Clarke's shooting yesterday but probably will make no report before Saturday or Monday. Clarke, who was collaborating with Mrs. Keith-Miller on a story of her life, was fatally wounded in her home, where both he and Lancaster were guests, a short time after the captain learned of their plans to marry.

Both Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller maintain Clarke shot himself, although Lancaster admitted that he diverted suspicion, he wrote two suicide notes attributed to Clarke. Mrs. Keith-Miller has been exonerated by the State's Attorney. Evidence taken before the grand jury yesterday included the notes found with the body, and Lancaster's diary, which State's Attorney Hawthorne said "showed conclusively that the man was head over heels in love with Mrs. Keith-Miller." He also produced letters from Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller to each other.

In addition, Lancaster's pistol, found under Clarke's body after he was shot as he lay in bed, was taken to the grand jury room. The pistol was purchased by Lancaster in St. Louis prior to his return here.

REJECTED SUITOR ENDS LIFE

Tells Girl He Took Poison; Falls Dead.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., May 5.—Miss Nora Daniels, 18 years old, considered it a dramatic gesture when Burton Roberts, her 20-year-old suitor, drained a bottle of what he said was poison after she had refused to marry him. They walked on together for five blocks in suburban Lincoln Park. Then Roberts fell to the sidewalk. Police took the youth to the home of a physician, who pronounced him dead.

Two Robbers Get 10 Years.
Louis Walker and John Gordon, Negroes, were found guilty of robbery under the Henry law by a jury in Circuit Judge Beck's Court yesterday and were sentenced to 10 years each in the penitentiary. Kills Wife in Wall Paper Now.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 4.—Felix Bochaz and his wife, Agnes, quarreled over the color of wall paper they intended having hung in their house. Bochaz, police said, picked up a baseball bat and ended the row by beating his wife to death. A Coroner's jury held him to the grand jury on a charge of murder.

ADMIRAL C. M. CHESTER DIES AT 88 IN RYE, N. Y.

Veteran of Mobile Bay in Civil War Last Commander of "Old Ironsides."

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 5.—Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., retired, last commanding officer of the frigate Constitution when it was in active service, died last night at the home of his son, Arthur T. Chester, in Rye. He was 88 years old and had been ill since March 1.
Admiral Chester was one of a crew of boys that sailed "Old Ironsides" to Newport, R. I., during the Civil War. Later, in 1886, Admiral Chester was transferred from the U. S. S. Galena to the Constitution, then laid up at the navy yard in Portsmouth, N. H.
A graduate of the United States Naval Academy, class of 1863, Admiral Chester participated in the Battle of Mobile Bay, the capture of Fort Morgan and the capture of Mobile during the Civil War. For 15 years under an appointment from President Roosevelt he was engaged in establishing an open door for American trade in Western Asia. Prior to that he was commander in chief of the South Atlantic squadron, 1897 to 1898.
Chester figured prominently in the international complications of 1922 that grew out of the "Chester concession," which he obtained from Turkey. Had the concession been carried through successfully it would have placed Americans virtually in economic control of Turkey. In 1925, however, it was announced the Ottoman-American Development Co., the Chester organization, had accepted the offer of a British syndicate for its rights under the concession.

TIRE CLEARING HOUSE

OWNERS CLEARED IN COURT

Lester Margolin and Louis Steinberg Freed; Were Charged With Possessing Misstamped Goods

For Sale.
Lester Margolin and Louis Stein-
berg, proprietors of the Tire Clearing House at 1221 Easton avenue, were cleared by Judge Butler
of the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday of charges of possessing goods for sale under false brands.

The charges were made in warrants issued on complaint of an attorney for the Simonize Co. of Chicago, maker of automobile cleaning compounds, who said the men possessed another product in cans resembling those used by his company.

Judge Butler held that the State had not shown that the defendants knew they had a bogus product
and that the evidence disclosed
they had asked the company from which they bought it to take it back after it had proved unsatisfactory.

TWO UNITS OF MAJOR STREET

WIDENING PLAN KILLED

Aldermen's Committee Rejects Morganford Road and Cherokee Street Projects.

Two units of the major street
widening plan were killed by the Streets Committee of the Board of Aldermen yesterday.

One was the widening of Mor-ganford road, between Gravois
avenue and the southern city limits, to make possible construction of a traffic relief road by the State. Recently the board killed
a more extensive scheme for widening Morganford between Arsenal street and the city limits. Officials urged that widening be carried out at least at the southern end, before the surrounding property was developed. Alderman Neu, who had opposed the former plan, said he would not object to the new one. However, property owners complained and the committee decided to set aside the undertaking.

The committee also killed the condemnation proceedings, recently started, for widening Cherokee street, between Seventh boulevard
and Eighteenth street, and connecting Cherokee with McDonald avenue at Grand boulevard. The committee's decision on both bills is subject to the anticipated approval of the entire board.

FREED OF PERJURY CHARGE

Detroit Police Investigator Accused of Giving False Testimony.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, May 5.—A perjury indictment pending for nearly a year against Robert A. MacPherson, former head of the police blackhand squad, was quashed yesterday. Recorders Judge W. McKay Skillman declared five of the six counts did not involve any criminal action. The sixth count was quashed on motion of Prosecuting Attorney, who said
the proof was insufficient.

The charges included declarations that MacPherson gave false testimony during a grand jury investigation of vice conditions in Detroit, particularly after the murder of Jerry Buckley, Detroit radio announcer.

Gypsy "King" Gets 15 Years.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Steve Kaslov, hailed by some tribes as King of the Gypsies in the United States, was sentenced to serve from 15 to 21 years in Sing Sing prison today. Kaslov was convicted last month of robbery in connection with the holdup of Rose McGinnis,
daughter-in-law of Tene Bircho,
who has questioned Kaslov's leadership of the Gypsies. It was charged that in the holdup the woman lost 10 $100 bills and a necklace of gold pieces.

DIES AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

Charles Lushar, 62, Norcross, Ga., Farmer, Succumbs.

Charles Lushar, 62-year-old farmer of Norcross, Ga., died at St. Louis County Hospital yesterday of heart disease following injuries suffered in an automobile accident April 20, when his machine ran off Highway No. 77 a mile south of Kirkwood.

Mrs. Bonnie Lushar, who was only

dict of accident was returned.

$24,569,000 SLASH IN FUND FOR ARMY

House Committee Would Drop Citizens' Training Camps and 2000 Officers.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Slashed by many millions under President Hoover's budget estimates, the last of the big regular supply bills for 1932—that for the War Department—was reported to the House today by the Appropriations Committee.

Cutting 2000 officers off the active list and making other sweeping reductions, the measure carries $24,569,000 for maintenance of the army and its nonmilitary activities. It is $58,975,000 below current appropriations and $24,569,000 less than the budget estimates.

The reduction brings to $160,000,000 the amount deducted by the Democratic controlled committee from President Hoover's requests for funds for the maintenance of the Federal Government in 1932. Only the second deficiency appropriation bill remains to be presented before Congress adjourns.

Of the total, $281,539,000 is for military activities, while $106,444,000 is for nonmilitary work of the department, including a lump sum of $60,000,000 for the improvement of rivers and harbors and $32,000,000 for the Mississippi Valley flood control project.

Not one budget estimate was increased and no item not recommended by President Hoover was included in the measure.

In his report, Representative Collins of Mississippi, Democratic chairman of the subcommittee which prepared the measure, pointed out that approximately $222,000,000 of the amount allotted to the army, went for the pay, expenses and subsistence of personnel.

Besides cutting from 12,000 to 10,000 the number of officers, the bill proposes suspension of camps for reserve officers' training; suspension of citizens' military training camps; suspension of 14-day training pay for organized reserves; a $5,555,000 curtailment of transportation of troops and officers; a $3,219,000 reduction in subsistence allowances, and reduction in flying pay totaling $112,500.

Among restrictions proposed in the measure are that the number of army bands be limited to 43; that retired officers holding civilian positions shall not receive more than $2000 a year; that no additional outlays be made for pilgrimages of gold star mothers to France to visit graves of their sons because more than $1,000,000 remains unused from last year; and that subsistence traveling expenses of personnel be reduced from $6 to $5 a day.

DREDGE FIGHTS PULP FIRE

$3,000,000 Pile Has Been Burning Since Friday.

By the Associated Press.
PORT ALFRED, Quebec, May 5.—Hope that part of the $2,000,000 pile of pulpwood burning here may be saved was strengthened today as the dredge Montcalm, with pumps capable of throwing a stream of water 125 feet into the air through a 32-inch pipe, went into action. The loss already is estimated at $1,500,000.

The dredge was towed from Chateaufort and special cables were laid to convey current to its motors. Other pumps, throwing water on the flames at the rate of 600,000 gallons a minute, have been ineffective. The fire started Friday. The burning wood is owned by the Consolidated Paper Corporation and is insured.

HOOVER INSISTS CONGRESS MUST BALANCE BUDGET

ated for the next fiscal year
... a decrease of about $1,000,000 below the fiscal year 1932
... and inexorably require a broader basis of taxation and a drastic reduction of expenditures in order to balance the budget. Nothing is more necessary at this time than balancing the budget. Nothing will put more heart into the country
than prompt and courageous and united action in enacting the legislation which this situation imperatively demands, and an equally determined stand in defeating unwise and unnecessary legislation.

"Most expeditious action is necessary if the revenues, appropriations,
economy legislation and a balanced budget are to be attained before the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1 next.

Lists Requirements.

"The details and requirements
of the situation are now well known to the Congress and plainly require:

"1. The prompt enactment of a revenue bill adequate to produce the necessary revenue and so designed as to distribute the burdens
equitably and not to impede economic recovery.

"2. A drastic program of economy which, including the savings already made in the executive budget of $369,000,000, can be increased to exceed $700,000,000 per annum. Considering that the whole Federal expenditure, except about $1,700,000,000 is for uncontrollable obligations, this would represent an unprecedented reduction. Such a program, to accomplish its purpose, must embrace the rejection of all measures that increase expenditures unless they be for undoubted emergency; the reduction in appropriations now pending below the figures submitted in the executive budget on Dec. 9, last;
a reconsideration of the legislation
covering those economy projects
which require repeal or amendment
to the laws; and an effective grant of authority to the executive to reorganize and consolidate and eliminate unnecessary government bureaus and establishments.

$230,000,000 Further Cut.

"In the category of appropriations within the authority of the Appropriation Committees those committees have given some months to devoted consideration of the executive budget, which as I have said in itself carried a reduction of $369,000,000 below the expenditures of the current year.

"Considering the situation in the country and a study of the results
so far attained by the committees,
together with a review by the executive officials, I am convinced that, subject to the inclusion of conditions mentioned later, a reduction of at least $230,000,000 below the executive budget can be made in the supply bills (of which some $70,000,000 or $80,000,000
may be the subject of deficiency bills at the next session).

"In order to effect these economies, to preserve the efficiency of the Government, and to assure the humane treatment of Government employees, authority must be given to meet emergencies which may arise from such close budgeting
by the transfer of not to exceed 15 per cent of any appropriation to any other appropriation within the same department, provided no appropriation is increased more than 15 per cent but subject to the approval of the director of the budget; and to suspend the leave with pay so that the five-day
week and its equivalent to salaried employees can be installed where necessary.

Against Ousting Employees.

"With the reduction proposed in the original budget, together with the further reductions here proposed, it will be necessary to discharge $0,000 to 100,000 employees, unless we divide the remaining work of the Government
amongst the whole of its employees
just as has been done in industry.
I know of nothing more inhuman
in the present situation than for the Government to add to the pool
of unemployment and destitution
when it is entirely unnecessary and can be provided against by the same measures which were undertaken by industry at the request of the Government itself nearly three years ago.

"In the category of further economies which can only be made by changes in laws which would give authority to the executive and
the Appropriations Committees,
many items were proposed by executive officers of the Government, and some portions of them were embodied in the bill presented by the special Economy Committee to the House of Representatives. Less than $30,000,000 direct and definite savings were covered in the bill which finally passed the House,
many of the indeterminate and indirect savings in that legislation cannot be realized until late in the new year or after that.

Urges Reconsideration.

"Many of the recommendations which were rejected by the House of Representatives should again be considered. Aside from the economy proposals affecting employees
which are here included in the above discussion of the proposals,
there are opportunities to increase the direct savings provided for in the House economy bill from $29,000,000 to from $120,000,000 to $154,000,000, plus many indeterminate items which would result in further economies.

"These savings would be over and above the amounts of savings
referred to in the direct appropriations. Without going into the merits or demerits of the proposals,
they do represent the correction
of abuses and the curtailment of unnecessary functions of the Government and embrace items that cannot be dispensed with during the present critical period.

"In the category of economies
that can be made by consolidation, reorganization, and elimination of the less necessary bureaus,

HOOVER INSISTS CONGRESS MUST BALANCE BUDGET

...tagously be consolidated for the purpose of economy and more effective administration.

"The savings to be made are indeterminate, but very considerable. If made by executive action within the above direction from the Congress they can be made promptly."

"The imperative need of the nation today is a definite and conclusive program for balancing the budget. Uncertainty is disastrous. It must be in every sense a national program. Sectional, partisan, group or class considerations can have no place in it."

"Ours is a government of all the people, created to protect and promote the common good, and when the claims of any group or class are inconsistent with the welfare of all, they must give way."

"Various groups and sections of the country have brought insistent and delaying pressures to bear for the adoption or rejection of various projects which would yield great economy and revenue. They have not realized that sacrifice by all groups is essential to the salvation of the nation. They have not recognized the gravity of the problems with which we are confronted. They apparently do not know that by their actions they are imposing losses on members of their own group and sections through stagnation, unemployment, decreased commodity prices, far greater than the sacrifices called for under these suggestions."

"The Government cannot be dictated to by organized minorities. Such action will undermine all popular Government. I know that these actions do not reflect the will of the country, and I refuse to believe that the country is unable to reflect its will in legislation."

"In conclusion let me urge the national necessity for prompt and resolute and unified action, keeping constantly in mind the larger aspects of the problem and that the necessary for these measures is born of a great national emergency. If such a program should be agreed to by the leaders and members of both houses it would go far to restore business, employment, and agriculture alike, it would have a most reassuring effect on the country."

Robinson Says Congress Needs "Specific Suggestions."

Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, arose immediately after the reading of the President's message in the Senate and said he agreed with the President on the necessity of balancing the budget, but said what Congress needs now is "specific suggestions," rather than general advice.

"One of the great difficulties that has been encountered in meeting the obligation grows out of unaccountable errors of the executive department in making unreliable estimates," said Robinson. "There would not have been the difference between the revenues and expenditures, if the estimates heretofore submitted with respect to prospective revenues had been even approximately correct."

COURT AWARDS SISTER $5000 FROM ESTATE OF J. A. PASTEL

Will Stipulated, Mrs. Hilda Peck Was to Get Amount if Single or Separated From Husband.

Circuit Judge Norton today ruled that Mrs. Hilda Pastel Peck is entitled to $5000 from an insurance trust fund created by her brother, Jacob A. Pastel, a building contractor.

The trust, executed June 13, 1928, provided that in event the sister was single or was married but separated from her husband at the time of the brother's death she was to have the amount specified; otherwise it was to revert to the trust estate for the benefit of Pastel's widow. Pastel was killed in an automobile accident in Webster Groves last Sept. 24.

The evidence showed that Mrs. Peck became the wife of Austin Warren Peck, a realty broker, in November, 1928, but according to her testimony, as well as that of Peck, they were not living together at the time of her brother's death. Both said they were separated. Mrs. Peck was living at 55 Vandeventer place.

Mrs. Pastel and the St. Louis Union Trust Co. as trustees, contended that the Pecks had not separated. Peck, it was shown, also lived at 55 Vandeventer place, but he explained he went there to notify his wife of her brother's death, and he subsequently took a room in the house because he had an interest in the place.

The insurance trust amounts to about $146,000, according to Robert Burnett, representing Mrs. Peck. Pastel's widow is the beneficiary of all except that amount allotted to his sister.

GERMANS VICTORIOUS IN MEMEL ELECTIONS

Retain 24 Seats in the Diet—Lithuanians Get Only 5.

By the Associated Press.

MEMEL, May 5.—The German parties won yesterday's elections in this little country, whose racial controversies have wide ramifications in the politics of Europe.

Returns show the Germans polled a tremendous majority over the Lithuanians, who sought to capture control.

The German parties held their 24 seats in the Diet. The farmers won 10, the Peoples party 9, the Communists 2 and the Social Democrats 2. The combined Lithuanian parties got only five seats.

Conflict between the German and Lithuanian elements in Memel became an international issue last February when Otto Roettcher, German president of the Diet, was dismissed by the Lithuanian Governor, Col. Antanas Merkys, on a charge of treating with a foreign country—Germany.

MARY NOLAN'S 30-DAY TERM IS UPHELD ON FIRST APPEAL

Atrocious and Husband May Seek Probation for Failure to Pay Wages.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 5.—Having lost their first move to evade serving a 30-day jail sentence, Mary Nolan, actress, and her husband, Wallace T. McCrery, today indicated, through their attorney, they would apply for probation or appeal to the State Supreme Court.

They were convicted March 11 of violating the State labor laws for failing to pay employees of a gown shop which they operated in Hollywood. The appellate department of the Superior Court yesterday upheld the conviction, and sentences.

Miss Nolan, known formerly on the New York stage as Imogene Wilson, is now on a theatrical tour. She has 48 hours within which to surrender and five days within which to file an appeal. Her husband is said to be accompanying her on the tour. Both are at liberty on $200 bonds each.

UNIVERSE, HURT, IS WITHDRAWN FROM THE DERBY

By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Universe was officially declared out of the Kentucky Derby this morning by his owner, T. M. Cassidy. Decision was reached to send the colt to New York Sunday to be given a long rest to heal his injured tendon. A veterinarian reported there was danger of his breaking down if worked before a good rest.

Railbirds at Churchill Downs reiterated the opinion that Tick On is "the horse to beat" as they watched workouts of other Kentucky Derby candidates, including a disappointing move by Liberty Limited.

The Three D's Stable Liberty Limited, considered a strong contender for Derby honors, performed in almost sensational fashion over five furlongs and then began sulking to finish the mile and quarter derby route in disappointing fashion.

Liberty Limited works in 2:12. Liberty Limited covered the quarter in 23 3/5, three-eighths in 58 2/5, half in 1:47 3/5, and five eighths in 2:09 1/5 over a track that was sloppy. Here Liberty Limited began to sulk, and reached the three-quarter mark in 2:14 flat after permitting Campbell, which was working with him, to pull ahead a length. J. Moore, who was riding Liberty Limited, applied the whip and the mile was completed in 1:42 2/5. Again Liberty Limited sulked, however, and refused to run the last quarter. He jogged past the mile and quarter mark in 2:12.

Handlers of Liberty Limited, however, were no less enthusiastic than before, and maintained he was running "the race of his life" in the Derby.

J. J. Robinson's Lucky Tom, winner of the Louisiana Derby, took his final mile prep in 1:43 1/5 time, unextended throughout.

Tick On, the prime favorite, galloped two miles and appeared in good shape. Stenpetchett and Over Time, the Mrs. John Hay Whitney pair; J. W. Parrish's Cold and R. M. Eastman's Cathop all were given two-mile gallops today.

Brother Joe, one of E. R. Bradley's two hopes for repetition of his one-two Derby victories, was galloped and showed no signs of soreness. Brotherton pulled up lame after a workout yesterday with Burgoon King, but the lameness soon disappeared.

Shows for Derby Day.

By the Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Probable shows on Saturday, Kentucky Derby day, were predicted in a special forecast by the local weather bureau today. The weather was fair today with mild temperature.

SOPHOMORES WIN IN BASEBALL GAME, 78-9

Her "Coal Black Baby"

Above is shown the snow-white mare Imp. Herodias with her jet-black two-week-old colt by the famous racer, Blue Larkspur. The picture is interesting owing to sharp contrast in color between the mare and the foal. Herodias is a royal bred, being by that famous gray English sire, the late Herodias. She is also the dam of Black Beauty and Black Honor. No foal is born white. Horses of gray strain usually are born a sort of mouse color turning to blue, roan, iron gray, dapple gray and sometimes white.

ATTEMPTS TO LINK WALKER WITH BUS FIRM FINANCING

Seabury Puts in Evidence in New York Telegram Referring to "Boy Friend."

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 5.—Cryptic telegrams purporting to show that Mayor James J. Walker was directly interested in negotiations for financial backing for the Equitable Coach Co. were placed in evidence at a public hearing of the Legislative Committee investigating New York City affairs.

The telegrams were produced by Samuel Seabury, counsel of the committee. There were two of them, both signed with the name of J. Allen Smith, New York representative of the group behind the Equitable Co. They were addressed to Frank R. Fagool, one of the group seeking the franchise for the bus company from the city.

The first telegram, dated March 17, 1928, contained a reference to "boy friend" and Fagool acknowledged on the witness stand that this term "might have been" a reference to the Mayor.

Seabury constantly refreshed Fagool's memory by referring to his previous private testimony before he was called as a witness at the public hearing.

He finally tacitly agreed that in substance the first telegram stated that State Senator John A. Hastings advised Smith that Tammany Hall or the "war board" notified Mayor Walker that the "time limit" was April 15. It also indicated, according to Seabury's interpretation, that a meeting had been arranged between the counsel for the General Electric Co., from which financial backing was sought, and the "boy friend" before the "boy friend" left for Florida on the day the telegram was sent.

The second telegram, dated May 16, 1928, read: "John made mistake as his boy friend did not want further negotiations with Philadelphia banker but says go ahead with Brooklyn party. Chairman board agreeable and like you things look bright."

Seabury asked what difference it made to the Mayor whether the Equitable Co. had negotiations with Philadelphia bankers and Fagool said he did not know.

Mayor Walker was described to the committee yesterday as the prime advocate of granting a franchise to give an Ohio corporation a virtual monopoly over all surface transportation in New York City. Borough President Henry Bruckner of the Bronx testified that Walker's insistent pleading of the case of the Equitable Bus Corporation, controlled by the Fagool Motor Co. and the General Tire and Rubber Co., led to "dissension in Democratic party councils in 1927."

George W. Olvany, then leader of Tammany Hall, supported Walker in his efforts to give the Equitable a city-wide permit. Bruckner said, while other party leaders favored giving separate franchises to "home concerns." The Equitable company was approved by the city Board of Estimate, but the State Transit Commission balked.

MISSOURI U.
MAKES AWARDS
IN JOURNALISMMedals for Distinguished Service Go to Post-Dispatch, Frankfort Zeitung and Two Editors.TRIBUTE PAID TO CASPER S. YOSTGlobe-Democrat Editorial Writer Comments on Independence of Both Rural and City Newspapers.By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., May 5.—The University of Missouri's medals of honor for "distinguished service in journalism" go to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Frankforter
Zeitung of Frankfort, Germany; Casper S. Yost of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, and Frank W.
Rucker of the Independence (Mo.)
Journalist.Awarding of the medals this morning by President Walter Williams was one of the events of the university's twenty-third annual journalism week.
The Post-Dispatch was selected as an outstanding American newspaper, the Frankforter Zeitung as a leading foreign publication, Yost as a foremost Missouri editor, and Rucker as a successful graduate of the School of Journalism here.In awarding the medals, Williams, who founded the world's first school of journalism here, paid tribute to each of the newspapers
and to both Yost and Rucker.
Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the Post-Dispatch, and Dr. Karl Boe-cker of the German Institute of Newspaper Learning of the University of Berlin, accepted the medals
for the St. Louis and Frankfort newspapers.The presentation speeches of President Williams followed:
"To the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, whose publisher follows so faithfully
the noble trail blazed by his father whose name he bears, and is blazing new and noble trails
in this new day; persistently preserving by untiring zeal and rare
accuracy the truth behind the facts,
and upon a thoroughgoing
measure for public betterment,
with a news service that gives the news of the day with rare respect
for discordant and divergent opinions, with an editorial page dramatically independent, distinguished for its courage, singular
for its literary excellence."
"To Casper S. Yost, chief editorial writer of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, author of 'The Principles of Journalism.' Leading Christian citizen of his city; Missouri journalist who has stood among the number that national leader of the profession who perceived a most serious lack in forms of professional co-operation and labored successfully to remedy it through the formation of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; his first president, honored everywhere
as its founder; author, journalist, gentleman."
"To Frank W. Rucker, alumnus of the School of Journalism, vice president and general manager of the Independence (Mo.) Examiner; journalist, like all other professional men, takes unusual pride in those of his number who combine the highest technical skill with the highest competence with strength of character and consistent adherence to idealistic standards in all the relationships of life. Such praise can sincerely be given to Frank W.
Rucker."Praise for German Paper.
"To the Frankforter Zeitung:
This representative of the journalism of Germany where printing was born, combining exceptional news
statements with true liberalism;
steadfast champion of an enlightened democracy, having the courage to be unpopular where popularity meant economic gain; for 75
years presenting adequately and admirably news and comment upon large public service, promoting that better understanding between nations and peoples, all bound up in the same bundle of the world's life."
In accepting the medal, Yost commented on the development of economic and political independence
of the press as the most marked change which has taken place during 60 years in journalism."Today," he declared, "the newspaper, country as well as city, is economically independent. It is suffering at this time in common with all callings but it is not a mendicant. And today it is not subservient to parties, groups or persons. It exists for its own interests and public service."
The medals awarded are of bronze finish, two and one-half inches across and engraved on both sides. On one side enclosing the medal are the words, "University of Missouri," and in the center two quills and a rolled scroll.
On the reverse side is a reproduction
of the Missouri School of Journalism building.Address of Joseph Pulitzer, Accepting Medal for the Post-DispatchPresident Williams, Ladies and Gentlemen:I CONSIDER it a rare privilege and a very great honor to be here today to receive on behalf of the newspaper which I represent, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the great distinction which you are conferring upon it. Since there are many other individuals on the Post-Dispatch staff better qualified by journalistic achievement than I to be here, and yet
I value the award so highly that I could not deny myself the privilege of coming to the University of Missouri to receive it.The award, I have been told,
is made to the Post-Dispatch for rendering distinguished service
in journalism, and through journalism for his readers by preserving a discreet silence. He may, as Doctor Mencken said recently, occasionally come out
"with a thumping denunciation
of cannibalism," but that is just about his limit in throwing editorial caution to the winds.Finally, we have the ax grinding type. That is the type fortunately disappearing fast which is owned by a publisher, very often a wealthy publisher, who is in the editorial outlook, and small in influence. This type reflects only one shade of public opinion in a country where there are seemingly many minute
shades of opinion, a veritable spectrum ranging from those of the extreme left to those of the extreme right. These newspapers, of course, are honest in presenting their particular narrow point of view, but seemingly one must read 20 of them to get a reflection of what the majority of the German people are thinking. In France, the European type is represented by what from the American point of view must be regarded as a singular kind of journalism, for
in France a great many of the newspapers are owned or controlled by special interests. That special interest may be a foreign monarchy trying to keep itself
in the saddle, or a Russian communist movement trying to undermine the foundation of the French Government, or a great industry trying to fatten on the increased manufacture of war
armaments.In this country we have thankfully agreed we have spared
this kind of journalism. In the Post-Dispatch platform there appears a line: "Never be satisfied with merely printing news."
At first thought that proposition
may seem difficult to understand.
The layman might very easily say: "What is a newspaper for except for merely printing news?" The answer is that there are a hundred different ways of printing news, but that there is only one way of printing
THE news. We have several different types of newspapers in this country. There are some newspapers that are always satisfied with merely printing news;
that is to say, they set aside a certain amount of space to advertising, a certain amount of space to reading matter, and merely print news as it flows into them more or less automatically,
by telephone, telegraph and by cable.There is another type which goes a great deal further than this; which gives the reader the benefit of a tremendous amount of reading matter collected at great cost by correspondents of exceptional ability located in the remotest parts of the earth. They fairly deluge the reader with words of what has happened and
the unfortunate reader has to subject himself the next day to another deluge of words only to discover that the first day's deluge
had not meant much of anything. I do not wish to appearWe, of the Post-Dispatch, feel that that is the real duty of a newspaper. That has always been and will remain our goal.
If a small part of such service
has been rendered by the Post-record here as saying it has been accomplished by the brilliant and able men who constitute the Post-Dispatch staff. If my Post-

credit for having rendered a small degree of such service, to them should go the credit; and on their behalf and on behalf of the Post-Dispatch I accept with profound gratitude this medal

SAYS RELIGION IS HOPE OF U. S.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Byrd S.
Coler, former city commissioner, told
today that all the nation's ills
would be cured if the entire citizenry had true religious faith.
"Besides and above our most highly educated set of commercial thieves the world has ever tolerated, whose depredations are threatening the very existence of our financial system. If every man being in these United States was a true and loyal follower of
and of the great Catholic, Jewish and Protestant faiths we would have a citizenship that would render any form of democracy safe
and honest in government, society
and business."

FERRY CAPSIZES; 8 DROWNED

By the Associated Press.

TRAPANI, Italy, May 5.—Eight passengers drowned when the motor ferry San Giuseppe sank Tuesday near here in a sudden squall.
Four of the crew and eight passengers were saved.
The ferry, which runs between Trapani and Favignana, capsized.
The occupants clung to the wreckage for an hour and a half before they were rescued by fishermen.
Among the drowned were two children.BORAH SAYSSILVER
MUST BE RESTORED
TO END DEPRESSION"There Must Be Some Relief From This Gold-Mentality," Senator Tells Crowd in Address.By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 5.—A three-fold program for world economic recovery, disarmament, settlement of reparations and restoration of silver, was presented to the Senate today by Senator Borah
of Idaho.Addressing a crowded Senate Chamber, Borah discussed world affairs, stressing particularly the
"gold mentality" which he said had been in force since 1925."I venture this opinion," he said, "that unless arrangements are reduced so that burden is lifted,
unless reparations are settled so that Europe can start on economic recovery and unless silver is restored to the place it occupied prior to 1925, to restore to some extent the purchasing power of
one-half the world, there will not,
in my judgment, be any ready return to prosperity."

"Gloomy" Geneva Reports.

The Idaho Senator, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, referred to what he described as gloomy reports coming from the Geneva disarmament conference and warned that unless an agreement to cut armaments was reached the effect would be felt throughout the world, and investments would be wary."I do not know how long the people will be willing to carry the burden they are now carrying," Borah continued, "but we must not be unkind to the fact that the masses everywhere, including our own country, are becoming restless.""We do not accomplish things generally in this country by revolution, but there can be no doubt of a general feeling among the peoples that the governments are not meeting the task before them."Borah asserted economic conditions in Europe were serious and he touched on recent attempts of the Danubian conference for trade agreements, continuing:
"In some of those countries there is no circulating medium. Some are practically in a state of barter."

Still Spirit of the War.

"Efforts to bring them into an agreement has failed. They failed because there were in the conference those still imbued with the spirit that came out of the great war.""The conference broke down and those nations face the summer of 1932 in a condition distressing beyond the power of human language to express."Pausing to assert this "already has had its effect" on world economic conditions, Borah then declared:
"It has already been foreshadowed that the Lausanne conference
can not hope to succeed."Turning to the gold problem, Borah asserted "there must be some relief from this gold mentality."He said the United States and France with a population of 170, 000,000 owned about 70 per cent of the world's gold compared to the 1,400,000,000 who hold the other 30 per cent."It is significant that the abnormal flow of gold into the United States and France marked the beginning of the fall of commodity
prices and the liquidation of securities," he declared. Deflation began then, is continuing and seems far
to go on.Price Fall Like Glacier.
"It seems clear to me that the fright which still obtains was engendered by this gold disturbance.
A fall in prices is like a glacier—once started it sweeps all before it.""I don't know how to pay the gold indebtedness of the world so long as the gold is held by two nations. Debt must be paid either in gold, in kind or in services."
"While I am a believer in the protective tariff, it is obvious that our tariff will not permit payment in kind. There is no opportunity to render payment by services."
"We are up against an impossible situation unless there can be a large supply of money.""England was forced off the gold standard last September. Dire prophecies were heard before that occurred of what would happen. It

ROOSEVELT TO WIN
ON FIRST BALLOTCalifornia Vote Makes It Practically Certain He Cannot Get Two-Thirds
at Start.By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Speaker
John N. Garner of Texas has overwhelmed Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith in the vital California primary and precipitated the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination into the national convention at Chicago.
Supporters of Roosevelt, who had counted strongly on California's 44 convention votes to regain the prestige he lost to Smith last week in Massachusetts, were openly disappointed over the Texan's victory, but remained confident the New York Governor would get the nomination.They admitted Roosevelt's nomination now was unlikely on the first ballot, but said he would have a majority at the start and the banner would be his on an early vote. All agreed, however, that the New Yorker's fight from now on would be a hard one.Garner's friends and Smith boosters said Roosevelt had been definitely stopped.

Garner Important Factor.

Despite his silence, Garner now has been thrust to the front as a vital factor in the determination of who is to get the nomination if his own chances are found to be slim.Garner gets 44 pledged convention votes as a result of his victory and he will have 90 when Texas instructs its 45 for him on May 24.
The only other organized opposition Roosevelt thus far has met is behind Smith, who has 46
pledged votes and an unknown
number from New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut, but in all likelihood not more than 150 or 160.The real significance of the California results, therefore, probably will be found in the effect they will have on the determination of the Danubian conference to stay in the race. This group will have the balance of power and the outcome
depends upon where delegations
like those from Ohio, Illinois, Virginia and Oklahoma go to break
a possible deadlock.On the surface, it would seem that an alliance of all other candidates to prevent his nomination,
such as faced McCaddoo in 1924, is not expected by Roosevelt supporters.An indication of this was given by Senator Lewis, favorite son candidate from Illinois, who told newspaper men the California vote might be construed as indicating a strong desire for a Roosevelt-Garner ticket.He said a "great honor" would be conferred upon Garner if he should be elected Vice President, while if the Democratic ticket lost
he could return to the House.

BERLIN, May 5.—Friedrich Wilhelm von Hohenzollern, Germany's former Crown Prince, in the first interview he has granted since his return from exile in 1923, appealed to the American people today to understand Germany. He will be 60 years old tomorrow."When you ask me, in connec-

make a statement," he said, "I cannot avoid hitting straight from the shoulder and telling you what is at stake in my fatherland today.""I cannot close my eyes to our appalling misery, to the constantly growing despair which everybody
who is willing to see and hear encounters on every side, to the extremes of progressive destruction
which day after day, with merciless fatefulness, victimizes both small and large economic undertakings,

years of painstaking, tenacious labor."Charges of Guilt Disproved.
"Claims made about Germany's guilt for the outbreak of the war
are untrue and have, besides, long been disproved.""What about the thesis with which the United States in 1917 entered the war against Germany—
the thesis concerning the necessity of fighting in behalf of the liberty of small nations? What a preposterous, fatal mistake!""What about the celebrated 14 points of President Wilson which Germany accepted and whose fulfilment Germany has a right to expect even today? They were thrown in the discard at Paris.""Have you proud and free Americans any inkling of what it means to make a proud people submit to special laws and regulations? Is it necessary to point out what it means to take the right of deter-sponsible for all the disaster of today. True enough, you Americans did not sign it, but you will pardon me for saying this—you have made it possible and you continue to tolerate the impossible conditions

created by it.""Is it really necessary to emphasize that Europe's recovery can be brought about only if in the heart of this continent there is a Ger-

himself into a pitch of excitement.
He paused a moment to let his feelings subside."If I were to be successful," he went on, "in catching the ear of the people across the Atlantic with what I have told you, and if thereby I should be able, at least in a especially that he could visit the

Against Expense.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Archibald B. Roosevelt, son of the former President, today presented to President Hoover a letter asking him to take "open and determined action" to cut off compensations paid to veterans for disabilities not resulting from war service.Roosevelt declared in a statement left with the President that
"a vast legalized 'racket' has been foisted on the people" whereby one-quarter of all the revenue received from the whole nation is being expended for the benefit of less than 1 per cent of the people."He also presented to the President a petition backed by the National Economic Committee.
Roosevelt said Hoover "seemed interested" in it. Roosevelt is secretary of the Economy Committee.
He continued to the President that at least $400,000,000 could be saved
from veterans' payments "without injustice."Roosevelt, himself a veteran,
plans to present similar petitions
and statements to Vice President Curtis and Speaker Garner of the House.

Committee in Session.

At about the same time members of the House Ways and Means Committee went behind closed doors to decide what to do about cashing the soldiers' bonus, but delayed action until Friday.The letter presented to the President by Roosevelt said his organization had watched with growing concern "the failure of the Government to face the issue of economy."

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that any politician will make no difference to its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be essentially independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

To Increase City Revenue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
It has occurred to me that there are several ways that we could increase city revenue. One way is to decrease the tendency on the part of all citizens to avoid payment of personal property taxes. There are many thousands of persons in St. Louis who should pay a personal property tax who have never paid one. They are slackers. They enjoy the privileges of police protection, fire protection, our parks and playgrounds, schools and other features of a city, up-to-date city, and yet refuse to contribute to the cost of same. The Comptroller's office should ferret out all personal tax evaders and make them pay up. There are perhaps a still greater number of citizens who make a ridiculously small personal tax payment. They list thousands of dollars' worth of personal property under the heading, "Household and Kitchen Furniture," and make an appraisal of $100 or so, when it should be considerably greater.

The city could also levy a tax on bank savings deposits. The same basis could be used in reckoning this tax as the banks use in reckoning the amount of the principal on which interest payments are made twice a year. At the time the interest is figured, the banks could make a return to the city and deduct this tax from the interest payment. The city, in this way, would be sure of getting its tax with no chance of evasion. This levy would not hit anyone very hard and would result in many thousands of dollars in revenue—much needed at this time.

Setting the Doctor Right.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
In your issue of April 24, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht told the open-mouthed world how politicians gave business the "works" and put the world on the bum. I have been waiting for you to set the doctor right.

It would be an easy matter for you to explain to the near-sighted doctor that he saw only the corks (politicians) bobbing on top of the water and that his mind failed to probe down to where the wily crawfish (traders) were stealing the bait off the hooks, while the corks showed barely a nibble to disturb the calm surface.

Thus, the trader-ruled politicians did the dirty work of the corks, makes Dr. Schacht all square with Plato. But, of course, he doesn't know it.

HIGHLAND, III. T. A. TIERNEY.

A Question of Principle.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE referendum is proving to be a very convenient way out for drys. Yet if the eighteenth amendment is wrong now, it was wrong in 1910 and has been every day since then.

It is not a question of drink. It is a question of principle of government. Any man has a right to be and should be encouraged to be a personal dry, but no man has a right to be a political dry under our form of government.

Some people do not use tobacco, others do not use pork, some do not use meat on Fridays, yet they have no right to inflict their personal views on the rest of us by law.

The favorite argument of the straddler, now as in slavery and other such times, is "I don't care anything about prohibition," and that philosophy is O. K. if prohibition is right. But if prohibition is wrong, no man can say he doesn't care whether a wrong is voted one way or the other. The majority should rule, but not in personal matters.

Debating with Douglas against slavery, Lincoln said: "It is false philosophy, it is false statesmanship, that undertakes to build up a system of policy upon the basis of caring nothing about the very thing that everybody cares most about." The same thing applies to prohibition today.

W. J. SHEA.

A Motorist Aims His Vexation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
A PROTEST such as this is ventured only to express what must be the inarticulate rage of any motorist who parks his machine on any street downtown during the day, or, more specifically, anywhere west of Twelfth street. It is directed, perhaps vainly, against the increasing amount of circulars, cards and booklets left in automobiles during the day.

One evening's collection last week included a circular advertising "not a paint—not a polish—not a lacquer," a business card of a seller of small cars, a circular describing lubricants, wheel aligners, "steaming" and other blessings of the public garage, and various other pamphlets, doggers and handbills.

It is difficult to keep a windshield wiper in order in face of the daily tamping by imbeciles who stuff bills under it. A motorist may do two things: One is to toss the whole collection into the street, a solution rather embarrassing even if a street cleaner is nowhere in sight. The other, which may eventually be resorted to by some of us, is to sort the stuff and send it back to the advertisers with the stern command to "Keep your stuff out of my car." W. C. M.

PARTY LEADERSHIP.

Grant that Senator Long of Louisiana is eccentric, it is still true that party leadership at Washington is among conservatives rather than between conservative and liberal elements.

Senator Long puts the Democratic leadership in the Republican party. He denies that Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader in the Senate, is a Democrat, and belabors him as an emissary of the Power Trust. Disgusted with the leadership of his party in Congress, the Louisiana Senator has resigned from all committees and rises almost daily to heap fresh coals of fire upon the head of the unhappy Democratic leader.

In truth, the situation on the Republican side is no better. It lacks only a Huey Long to show how ridiculous it is that men so wide apart as Norris and Moses, as Borah and Shortridge, and as Couzens and Glenn, should all wear the same label.

The scene the Louisiana Senator insists upon making is sometimes unseemly, but it should be salutary. The two parties have fraternized across the lines at Washington until they have become indistinguishable except by label. There are Democrats whose sympathies lie with the Republican majority, and there are Republicans whose sympathies lie with the Democratic majority.

In the fight over a general sales tax, the Democratic leaders in the House lost all control over the Democratic majority, as the Republican leaders in the House lost all control over the Republican minority. The members of the House stepped across party lines to defeat such a tax, just as in passing the Hawley-Smoot tariff law Democrats and Republicans had joined, regardless of the labels they wore.

It is this sort of thing that has made party names meaningless and has brought the profession of politics into contempt. The two parties in Congress are only doing what the two major parties have long been doing in almost all of the big cities. It is a commonplace of politics in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, Detroit, Cleveland and almost every other city, that both parties feed at the public trough.

Tammany in New York will traffic with anybody, as will the Thompson crowd in Chicago and the Pendergast outfit in Kansas City. Fraternizing for jobs at the City Hall has reduced the Democratic party in St. Louis to a negligible quantity.

We hold no brief for Senator Long, but we are not going to quarrel with any means of exposing the sham of party in the United States. As courts had their jesters, the United States Senate has Huey Long. The jester often told the King the truth, and unless we are greatly mistaken, Huey Long is telling Senator Robinson the truth.

How long will it be until progressives in both parties refuse to wear these meaningless labels? The cases of the Republican progressives in the Senate are as contradictory as are the cases of the Democratic bourgeois in the Senate. The Monroe County (Mo.) Appeal recently said that Senator Norris of Nebraska is the best Democrat in Congress. When party labels become so hollow as that, it is hard to understand how honorable men can wear them.

We laugh at the numerous political parties in a European election such as that in France last Sunday, when the candidates of 12 parties contested for seats in the Chamber of Deputies, but they do have one virtue—they mean something.

They show where men stand, whereas our party labels show only where men sit.

A DESPERATE RESORT.

For the ostensible reason that the theater's license had not been renewed, police turned away first-nighters at the Avon Theater in New York. They had gathered to witness a play entitled "Merry-Go-Round," a melodrama attacking political conditions such as have been charged to exist in New York. Another play, "Face the Music," dealing with revelations brought out by Judge Seabury's inquiry, is now enjoying a successful run, much to the discomfiture of Tammany. The latter, notorious for its unscrupulous methods, apparently has decided to prevent further dramatic successes at its expense. Hence, the police guard. That, however, is a desperate resort, and should encourage Judge Seabury to keep the heat turned on. If he does, it is only a question of time before the rats will run.

HEALTH AND THE TRADE COMMISSION.

In addition to what the Federal Trade Commission does to help curb monopoly, prevent price-fixing and stop unfair competition, there is the less commonly known part of its duties that deals with protecting the public health. Exercising its authority to begin action against firms or persons whom it suspects of misrepresentation or unfair practices in advertising, the commission encounters many medical preparations for which claims are made entirely at variance with their merits. In this connection, the Journal of the American Medical Society finds the Trade Commission in some respects more potent in protecting the public health than the two other Federal agencies that have similar duties. These are the Department of Agriculture, which enforces the Pure Food and Drug Act, and the Postoffice, which bans fraudulent preparations from the mails.

The bulletins of the commission, wherein are listed and described the nostrums against which cease-and-desist orders have been issued, or modifications of claims have been obtained, comprise an amazing record of bold deceptions practiced, or attempted, upon the public. All sorts of cure-alls, restoratives and beauty aids, whose properties as listed are nothing short of magical, have been removed from the market. If the commission's existence were not justified by its important inquiries into utilities and mercantile methods, this patrol duty among the medical frauds would go far to warrant its continuance.

A PIONEER'S UNHAPPY FATE.

Our sincere sympathy goes out to George Survel. He is the Zelig (Ill.) coal miner who two years ago was grieved during conditions in his calling and disappeared from the civilization extant in Southern Illinois. From that time until this week, when an unimaginative Game Warden took him into custody for fishing without a license, he enjoyed life after the simple manner of his fathers. A cave was his abode, a sack of leaves his bed and the Big Muddy River, whose waters washed his doorstep, his silent and highly satisfactory companion. While his diet of herb roots, wild fruits, muskrats and fish will not whet the appetite of everyone, few there are who would not relish the compensations that went with such fare. Obviously, calories and vitamins were persons non grato, and such imposters as sponge strawberry shortcake and canned pineapple knew better than to set foot on the premises. From such daily annoyances as alarm clocks, stop lights and the stock market, the home on the Big Muddy was happily free. George Survel's was the life idyllic. A consistent civilization, instead of sending him to jail, would honor him as a pioneer in the back-to-the-land and simple-life movements, whose benefits are being so eloquently extolled to us these days.

FREE PRESS IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

The power of Judges to inflict punishment for contempt of court is, when abused, one of the greatest dangers to our free speech and free press. The press is wise to be constantly on the alert for such arbitrary actions, and to oppose them with all its resources when they occur. The American Newspaper Publishers' Association at its recent convention took notice of the latest such incident, and unanimously commended the intention of the disciplined newspaper to carry the case to the highest court.

James A. Mathews, publisher, and Howard C. Anderson, editor of the Aberdeen (S. D.) American-News were the victims in this case. They criticized Circuit Judge Howard Babcock for inflicting light punishment on Royal A. Hasse, former County Auditor, who had pleaded guilty to third degree forgery, whereby he obtained $87 in public funds. Hasse was fined $300 and sentenced to six months in the county jail, the jail term being suspended. The newspaper men, sentenced by Judge J. H. Bottum, got 30 days in jail and were fined $200 each, with suspension of the jail terms on condition their paper remain silent on the subject thereafter. Of course, such terms, no less than a censor's gag, could not be accepted by a self-respecting newspaper.

The contempt charge was grounded on editorial criticism before completion of the case, in that the jail sentence was suspended. Yet, the newspaper's counsel pointed out, Hasse had paid his fine, thus relinquishing his right of appeal, and thereby terminating proceedings. The newspaper held Hasse's guilt was beyond question, for, confronted by an auditing firm's report, he admitted forging two warrants and pleaded guilty. The sentence was compared with that of another man, sentenced by the same Judge to five years in the penitentiary for a similar offense.

For two years the American-News has been making disclosures of graft in South Dakota public offices, and a full inquiry, under State auspices, into highway funds now is under way. The paper had performed a public service in its inquiry. Its punishment for criticizing this light sentence is in effect an encouragement to official corruption at a time when it should have short shrift from courts and press alike. The criticism did not interfere with the processes of law. It expressed an opinion of a public official's actions, and it is an axiom that such actions are not immune from criticism. For protection of the people's fundamental rights, appeal is essential. Its results should enlighten those few who may agree with Judge Bottum. He asserted his belief that no newspaper had a right to criticize a Judge even if the case were not pending, for such criticism "violated the spirit of the law."

MRS. SANGER'S FIGHT GOES ON.

The absence of former Senator Gillett from Congress does not mean that the fight to make lawful the dissemination of contraceptive information by physicians will not be continued. A bill similar to that the former Speaker sponsored in the last session has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Hatfield of West Virginia, a Republican, and in the House by Representative Hancock of North Carolina, a Democrat. Hearings will be held within the next week or two. The progress made in recent years by the movement to legalize the giving of birth control advice to those who desire it for economic or other reasons is measured by the change in the public attitude toward Mrs. Margaret Sanger. In 1912, following her work as a visiting nurse in the New York slums, she began the study of her subject, subsequently to be arrested and indicted and forced to remain outside the country for a year. Recently the American Woman's Association held a dinner in her honor, at which she was presented with a gold medal for what the association termed her fight against ignorance. Some such chapter is a part of every great humanitarian effort to bring the law into harmony with the wishes of the people.

DIZZY FITCHED.

Dizzy Dean, it will be conceded, has been engagingly frank with his public. In discussing his favorite subject, he has never had to grope for a word to convey the precise shading of the idea he wished to convey, namely, that he is good. His public's reaction to his candor may at times have been mistrustful. There have been cynics, we feel sure, who have remarked to themselves that, as a monologist, Mr. Dean was fluent, vivid and inimitable, but as a baseball pitcher, they logically asserted, he can't say it with flowers, or with glamorous adjectives; he says it, if at all, from an almost invisible rubber rostrum, with curves, with speed, with change of pace, and, as Plato jotted it down on a memorable occasion, he says it finally and invincibly with control.

Throughout the raucous April of this troubled spring, and further back in the Florida preparatory school, Dizzy Dean has not been the promising pupil whom teachers adore. While there were flashes of merit in his several appearances, his supremacy was fleeting. They (the enemy) invariably found him before the hurly-burly was done, and they laced him around the landscape with merciless fury. They left nothing extant of Dizzy but the ego.

Yet the ego is a noble ally if reinforced with skill, courage, energy and that matchless impendence—the instinct for doing the right thing, for being on the indispensable spot when necessity microphones. And it has been recorded in glowing columns that, on Tuesday afternoon, May 3, 1932, in the presence of a select audience, Dizzy Dean exhibited all the wares we have itemized in subjugating the starchy cast of the Cincinnati Reds. Velocity, tangents, tantalizing floaters and deadly precision—they were all in the repertoire, and wherever the exigency of the situation summoned, Dizzy was there. So, temporarily, at least, Dizzy is rated by his public at his own estimate. He has arrived. The accolade of major-leaguehood is his. And, showman that he is to his finger tips, it may well be that his craftsmanship will prove to be the salvation of the baseball season that has a long road to travel through a depression-ridden calendar.

The late Judge Priest defined the holding company as a "trap corporation," but Old Man Depression is exposing it as a bum.

"YOU JUMP!"

The Rout in Washington

By Walter Lippmann.

By a vote of nearly five to one and after a debate of only 40 minutes, the House on Monday passed a bill which would create three new classes of Government dependents and obligate the Treasury to provide several hundred million dollars during the next 50 or 60 years.

The three new classes are: First, widows of men who were a uniform for 90 days, providing the widow married the veteran five years before his death and providing that in addition to her earnings she has a net income of less than $250 a year; second, the children of veterans until the age of 16 or until they marry, provided the child does not have an actual net income of $400 a year; third, any child of a veteran for the whole of his life if that child is permanently incapable of self-support by reason of mental or physical defect.

The actual payments provided are small. For widows the sum is only $20 a month, for a widow with children it is $4 a month additional for each child, for a child which is an orphan it is $20 a month, and $4 additional for each of his brothers and sisters. But as the committee reporting the bill pointed out, "While this measure is not what we want, it is the best we could do under the circumstances." It is indeed. For once the principle is established that the Government must support the widows and children of veterans, the actual cash payment can be increased whenever Congress feels that it needs to buy some more votes.

By its legislation during the last 10 years, Congress has created a privileged class, a class of men who have rights which no other citizens possess. All that is needed to be a member of that class is to have put on a uniform a day or two before the war ended. By this new legislation, the privileges of this class would become hereditary. Our own historical experience shows that once established, such privileges are never renounced and never reduced. They can only be increased.

If the country agrees to the hereditary principle, it will have created a new class of voters who will hang together because they have a common interest in appropriations from the Treasury. Because they hang together, they will terrify Congressmen. In addition to the veterans' bloc, we shall then have the widows' bloc and the guardian of orphans' bloc. That ought to constitute a large enough body of voters to make it impossible for Congress ever to resist any demand from the veterans' lobbyists.

There are, no doubt, some Congressmen who sincerely believe that a man who once wore a uniform has done such extraordinary service to the nation that he and his widow and his children and even his parents are entitled to draw money from the Treasury for decades to come. But there are not many Congressmen who really think that. Most of them believe that the financial obligation has been discharged except to men disabled in the line of duty and to the dependents of men who died in the service. Why, then, do they vote these measures?

They vote them because they wish to be re-elected, because they like to draw $10,000 a year. Because they like the perquisites, because they like the importance which they enjoy. Because they hope to become Senators and Governors. That is the whole of it. By voting public money to the veterans and the veterans' widows, they are able to buy a good many votes. It is as crude as that.

What is a nation to do when it finds itself the victim of such a traffic? Nothing, unless it has the moral strength to rise under new leaders who will lead a crusade against this utter demoralization of representative government. The Londoner to Times was right when it said this week that "what disturbs the American public is that Congress, instead of setting an example to a country facing a crisis, has allowed itself to become bewildered and disorganized." Still more disturbing is the fact that party leaders seem almost to have abdicated their functions at a time when their guidance is so urgently needed.

Where are the party leaders in this crisis? Is it silly and theoretical and academic to suggest that the demoralization in Washington is bad enough, and the consequence it may entail dangerous enough, to warrant the recognized leaders of both parties in taking some extraordinary measure to stop the rout?

The Democratic party has three men whom it has honored with a presidential nomination, Mr. Cox, Mr. Davis and Mr. Smith. It has also five men whom it might nominate, Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Baker, Mr. Young, Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Traylor. What if these eight men went to Washington, sat down with the leaders in Congress and with the President and agreed upon a national program of taxation and economy?

The suggestion is absurd if what is going on in Washington is not important. But if it is important, if our leaders really believe that an honest effort to set the public finances in order is vital to the welfare of the American people, if they mean to put the national interest above all partisan and political ambitions, then the suggestion is not absurd.

In fact, this suggestion, which looks so visionary at first glance, would be fairly normal practice in any other country faced with a similar situation. Even we did the same sort of thing in 1917. It could be done now if the country demanded it. If it were done with faith and resolution, it might turn the tide.

REPELTING OUR POLITICAL SYSTEM.

From "These United States," by Nicholas Murray Butler.

TODAY there are no real political parties in the United States, and there have been none for years past. What we have in their stead are political voting names, trade-marks, which have much political and sentimental value and appeal in different sections and states, but for which there is nothing approaching a uniform content or implication.

Our once fairly effective system of party organization, party responsibility, party progress and party ideals has been blown sky-high. We keep on using the names and following the forms of party organization and party difference, but we are only playing with labels without anything upon which to put them. It remains true, as Adams wrote to Jefferson 120 years ago in that famous correspondence of theirs: "The real terms of both parties have always been, and now are, the fear that they shall lose the elections, and consequently the leaves and fishes; and that their antagonists will obtain them." Here we come upon the crux of the whole matter. John Adams was a wise old man.

The desire to win elections, not to establish principles, but to gain the authority and emoluments of office, has befuddled our whole political system.

Wilkerson: Another Phase

From the New York World-Telegram.

THE laurels of civic virtue with which a Senate subcommittee has sought to grace the head of Judge James H. Wilkerson might fit more becomingly if it were not for the record of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul receivership.

Receivership proceedings took place in Judge Wilkerson's Federal District Court. He appointed two receivers selected by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and the National City Co., reorganization managers, and for the third receiver he himself selected Edgar J. Brundage, his former law partner. He awarded salaries of $48,000 and $75,000 a year to the receivers, and at the end of their service awarded them bonuses of $100,000 each. Total fees granted by him in this receivership exceeded $2,100,000.

He allowed the reorganization managers approximately $2,000,000 for "compensation," setting aside safeguards with which the Interstate Commerce Commission had tried to surround this money, collected from security holders.

He denied the Jameson Committee of Bondholders, representing more than $10,000,000 of St. Paul bonds, the right to intervene in opposition to the reorganization plan, though the Interstate Commerce Commission recognized the right of this group to be heard.

A Senate subcommittee by a 2-to-1 vote has found Judge Wilkerson fit for promotion to the Circuit Court of Appeals on the sole ground that he gave Al Capone a somewhat longer sentence than that notorious character had been led to expect.

Whether or not it is true, as the United States District Attorney testifies, that Judge Wilkerson was a party to the agreement with Capone, the fact remains that the St. Paul receivership sheds much more light on Judge Wilkerson's sense of public morals than the other case.

No man blind or indifferent to the social implications of the great railroad receivership, to the financial manipulations that brought it on, to the thousands of small investors that lost their savings because of it, is fit to sit on the Federal bench.

WISCONSIN TELLS THE DEPOSITORS.

From the Philadelphia Record.

HARD-HEADED, conservative Easterners regard Gov. La Follette of Wisconsin as a wild, impractical radical. To La Follette has shown himself much more practical in handling the most distressing kind of business collapse—bank failure—than his critics.

When bank panic flared up last year, in almost every state the cry was: "Have confidence! Take it easy! Leave your money in the bank!" Too often depositors were assured that their money was safe, that they had nothing to fear. They were told almost nothing about the conditions of threatened banks. Many held off from withdrawing their funds from unstable banks until it was too late.

In Wisconsin, through La Follette's efforts, in town after town, State officials called depositors into meeting, told them frankly that their banks were in bad shape, urged them to agree to slow repayment of their deposits. As a result, many Wisconsin banks are now in better shape than before the depression.

In most states a shush-shush policy called upon the depositors to have faith. In Wisconsin exact knowledge called upon the depositors to have confidence. There is all the difference in the world between the words. Banking business can't be done on faith. It can be done on confidence. If depositors are not treated like children,

APPRECIATION OF ART

Speaker From Ohio Says Civilization Has Exaggerated Science and Materialism.

Sectional meetings of the thirty-eighth annual convention of the Western Arts Association began today. It will conclude its session at Hotel Jefferson tomorrow. Members of the association, composed principally of art supervisors in public schools from Ohio to the Rocky Mountains, discussed the importance of art appreciation and trends in home economics instruction.

Speakers included Louis Beaume, St. Louis architect and president of the Board of Control of the City Art Museum, and Eugene Gustav Steinhof, director of the National School of Decorative Art of Vienna. Steinhof discussed methods of stimulating the public to art production. La Beaume emphasized the importance of cultivating appreciation of art.

Dr. Frank D. Slutz, founder of the Moraine Park School, Dayton, O., spoke last night. He urged listeners to "let art be art for art's sake, instead of art for art's sake." Modern civilization has tended to exaggerate science and materialism, Slutz said, yet it was "through art we may see life in wholeness and gain consciousness of its ultimate significance."

Other speakers included Herbert J. Spinden, director of education, Brooklyn Museum, an illustrated lecture on "Natural History," and Mrs. Belle C. Scott of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the association.

General session addresses scheduled for this afternoon included discussion of Mayan art by Herbert J. Spinden, director of education, Brooklyn Museum.

MISS RUTH MCKENNA.

WHO is chairman of the Floor Committee for the play "Believe it or Not," which is to be presented by St. Mark's Alumnae, May 11 and 12, in the auditorium of St. Mark's High School, Minerva and Academy avenues.

Miss Virginia Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Watson of Watson of Carbonate, Ill., and Joseph Garnett Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Matthews of Kirkwood were married at noon today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Wiegand, uncle and aunt of the bride, 4759 Westminster place. Guests were limited to members of the two families.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Robert O. Kevin of Grace Episcopal Church of Kirkwood, before a temporary altar of spring flowers arranged at the mantel in the living room. Palms and ferns banked the fireplace, and spring flowers adorned the mantel ledge. Clusters of spring flowers decorated the newel post and small tables in the reception hall.

Mr. Wiegand gave his niece in marriage. She wore a white afternoon ensemble of flat crepe, with a short jacket of white chiffon velvet having three-quarter sleeves banded with Kolinsky fur. The gown was designed with a V-necked sleeveless bodice, and a fitted skirt flaring to the ankles. A cascade of the crepe at the back added a soft touch. A small, close fitting hat of tucked white crepe, which completed the costume, was covered at the back with white velvet. The bride bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss June Wiegand was her cousin's maid of honor. She was gowned in green crepe made with short puffed lace sleeves and a braided crepe belt held with a rhinestone buckle. Her slippers were green, and she wore a large ivory hair braid hat banded with a narrow wreath of green flowers. She carried Tallman roses. Churchill Matthews was his brother's best man. Mrs. Wiegand wore an afternoon gown of black satin combined with angel skin lace, and a corsage of orchids.

A breakfast followed. Spring flowers decorated the dining room also and ivory tapers in tall silver candelabra surrounded the floral centerpiece on the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews departed this afternoon by motor for Chicago, and will go to Canada on their wedding trip. They will live at 5620 Cates avenue upon their return.

The bride has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Wiegand for several years while she attended the Art School of Washington University. Mr. Matthews also attended Washington University. PASTORS DEPLORE 'RUN ON BANK OF RELIGION'

In Two-Day Conference Urge Greater Spiritual Unity Among Churches.

Protestant ministers of various denominations, who participated in the two-day Church Unity Conference which ended yesterday at St. John's M. E. Church, adopted a statement calling for greater spiritual unity among Christian churches.

The statement, prepared by Dr. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational Church, holds that this can be accomplished without eliminating deep seated denominational differences, "but when these threaten loss of power and influence for Christianity, they become a reproach."

Text of Statement.

The time in which we live is an imperative summons to us. The world is in confusion. And in no fields is there greater confusion than in the realm of morals and religion. All things once thought eternal verities are now subject to debate and doubt. The theory of relativity is being everywhere applied. Expediency seeks the throne once securely occupied by right and truth. Old sanctities are disintegrating and disappearing. Perjury is alarmingly common and on the increase.

"Crime is organized into an underworld before which the upper world of law and order is often helpless. The sacred institution of marriage is with increasing frequency becoming but a short-term contract. The spirit of secularism is making deep inroads into Christian faith and practice. There is a 'run on the bank' of religion, both organized and unorganized. Many have withdrawn their deposits, and even old stockholders are not free from doubt as to whether the institution is solvent. The cause of Christian missions limps along, uncertain both in aim and appeal.

"Our denominational differences have been called the reproach of Protestantism. This is not to be justified to the earnest, conscientious spirit that brought these denominations into being. Each represents a passion for right and truth. They are the outcome of liberty, noble protests against all acts of uniformity. They sprang out of sociological and philosophically conditioned situations and in response to Biblical interpretations that were considered authoritative. Their genesis is not to be traced to foolish eccentricities of strangely minded or half-souled men, but rather to the enthusiasm and conviction of devoted whole-souled men who broke with tradition and convention in the interest of what they considered vital.

"Our diversity should not of itself be condemned, for it does not exclude the unity of the spirit. Indeed, the spirit of unity will tolerate and welcome diversity if it does not threaten the lordship of Jesus or contradict His spirit, which called us to be brethren. But while giving due liberty for variety and due recognition to the spirit which lies historically behind our diversities, we are bound to recognize that when these diversities involve or threaten loss of power and influence for Christianity, they become a reproach."

"In the case of my other boys, too, I'm glad to see an active interest in things mechanical developing. And I am doubly glad that with them, as with me, this interest is not limited purely to the mechanism of technical labor, but that they are constantly searching for the bridge that must be constructed from technique over to the spiritual and economic phases of life, for this, as far as I can

He began the interview in German, then changed to English, and finally, as he grew more animated, lapsed back again into German, enlivened by Berlin slang.

and especially the failure to grapple with the question of drastic reductions in the approximately $1,000,000,000 which is being expended for veterans' benefits."

"The recent reckless action of the House of Representatives has been followed, as you know, by a new depreciation of the dollar in foreign exchange, so that today the dollar stands at a discount in comparison with the French, Dutch, Swiss and Belgian currencies," his letter said.

"As citizens with a pride in the country, we deem this condition incompatible with the dignity of the nation and marking a virtual breakdown in responsible Government."

BORAH SAYS SILVER MUST BE RESTORED TO END DEPRESSION

is the only bright spot today on the horizon. That great nation, which was committed to the gold standard since 1849, departed from it and it is the only nation today that seems to be on the road to recovery.

"All of that seems proof of the fact to me that there must be some relief from this gold mentality," The National Wealth.

"We are always being reminded," Borah said, "that our national wealth is $400,000,000,000. The fact that we have this national wealth is proof positive that the policies under which the national wealth is being administered are unsound."

"I do not believe that we can restore better conditions in this country by increasing taxes and providing methods by which the people can get larger and greater loans."

He asserted that the only policies proposed, not only in this country but in foreign lands as well, are to "increase taxes and provide larger loans to the people."

He traced the silver problem back to 1925, when he said the effort was started to force the gold standard on silver-using countries.

It began, he said, in India when Great Britain began to establish the gold standard there.

Borah recalled that Gov. Strong of the New York Federal Reserve Board had advised against this move and predicted it would have a bad effect on business and possibly the gold standard.

"I cannot understand why it would be unsafe or unsound to restore conditions as they were before 1925," said Borah. "It would not attack the gold standard."

Cites China's Natural Wealth.

"We have vast wealth, but Rome had as much wealth when it fell as when it was at the height of its power. It was not poverty that caused her fall. It was a defect in the administration of wealth."

"China has the greatest undeveloped natural wealth in the world. It does not signify much to have the most natural wealth when it is not administered to bring about reasonable prosperity."

"How are you going to restore prosperity to the people of the United States, the Orient or the world generally on the monetary base we are now using?"

"The Reconstruction Corporation has the purpose to extend credit. But what proposal is here which will reach out and have a tendency to restore the purchasing power of the masses?"

Borah charged that, although the Senate last year unanimously requested the President to call an international silver conference, "the United States has made no real sincere effort" to bring one about.

Timidity of Governments.

"And that's the very trouble of the situation," he said. "The timidity of Governments to take hold of the question which is sinking the people into utter degradation."

"There isn't a leading man in Europe who doesn't know that unless armament is reduced the people will sink under the burden."

Referring to an international silver conference, Borah exclaimed, "The Senator from Utah (Senator Smoot) says France and England wouldn't agree to it."

"I ask the Senator from Utah to present the facts which show they wouldn't agree to it."

Borah asserted that if the United States "threw its influence behind a movement to give silver the same place it had before 1925," it would be successful.

"We have no leadership," he roared.

Borah began his address by saying:

"The summer of 1932 in my opinion will be of very great moment to humanity.

"It will either mark the beginning of economic recovery or it will denote greater distress than we have yet experienced."

"Complaint is still being made against hoarding in this country. 'You might just as well invest against the law of self-defense as against hoarding under present conditions.'"

"We are advised again and again that the difficulty lies in lack of courage and confidence.

"It is well to have courage and confidence, but when a man is lying on his bed with a broken leg and gangrene is setting in, he needs a doctor."

In response to a question from Senator Fletcher (Dem.), Florida, Borah said he did not think the Goldborough bill recently passed by the House to increase the level of wholesale commodity prices would provide the needed relief.

"I am perfectly sure," he said, "that you can't stabilize the dollar by using currency to such an extent to take care of the situation to which I have referred."

Other Senators' Remarks.

Senator Norris (Rep.), Nebraska, interposed that "unequal distribution of wealth must be remedied

Do you inhale?

"Why bring that up?"
—the cigarette trade asks!

FOR years there has been generally a striking avoidance of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it has solved the problem! It gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

"Fifty million smokers can't be wrong!" So whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly—safeguard your delicate membranes!

by Arthur Somers Roche

CHAPTER SIXTEEN.

DEBORAH CARMICHAEL was little visited by sleep this night. She almost collapsed in the elevator, and was barely able to drag herself along the corridor to her suite when the light disappeared.

Jennie, wide awake, and none too approving—she didn't know where Deborah had gone but did not believe in the modern idea of drifting chaperonage—stuffed a scream at the sight of her young mistress.

"Miss Deborah," she gasped. "You—are you going to faint? You look so white!"

Deborah weakly shook her head.

"Just put me to bed, Jennie. Don't talk to me, please."

Jennie was the rarest maid in the world. She could be efficient without being bustling. She understood Deborah, gave her a head-scrub, saw that the night light was properly arranged, and tipped quietly from the room, without even an injunction to go to sleep.

What an utterly wicked person she was. She had not dreamed, in the placid life of girlhood, that she, Deborah Carmichael, could lie, could deceive, could by chicanery steal from her cousin the man who loved her cousin.

She had plumbed depths of wickedness and scaled heights of wrong-doing. She went over again the day and a half that had elapsed since, knowing what she was doing, she had taken the letter addressed to Delmar for herself.

She had tried—as she had told Cordova—to write to him. But she had known early in that effort that if she wrote to Cordova, he would find some way out of the position in which she would have placed him. No man, away from what appeal she could exert, away from what pity she could inspire, would be chivalrously aroused to the ultimate point by a letter.

No, she had to see him. She had to cast it all on the one throw. Carefully she had planned how she would go about it. She would tell her uncle she wanted to go to Southampton. She would leave—because packing required a little time—on the night train. She would breakfast in Boston and take the morning train from there. Arriving in New York, she would telephone Dick, being careful not to warn him by word or intonation of the advantage she had taken of him. Then, when she saw him, she would let herself drift into his arms, kiss him.

Well, it had all been done and how incredibly shameful it all was. Her body burned with self-contempt as she lay there in bed. She had taken advantage of all that was gentle and chivalrous in the man she loved. She had lied to him, deceived him.

She had wreaked an unjustifiable wrong upon her cousin. Del had a right to know that Cordova loved her. But she, Deborah, had deceived her cousin of that right.

Her mouth hardened and her eyes grew stern.

Del was no good. Oh, Del was a virtuous woman, she supposed; but Del was greedy as the night when it sees the light. Del must swallow everything around her, nothing must have existence as it existed in her. Dear old Uncle Dan—she had used him, maneuvered him, all the years she had been with him. Oh, Uncle Dan was proud of her, and loved her, but she had no affection to give him. Deborah knew this.

Deborah knew what she would do with Cordova. She would marry him, chain him to the wheels of her insatiable ambition, move him hither and there like a chessman, and give him nothing but the doubtful pleasure of knowing he was married to a very beautiful woman. Behind that doll-like exterior lay no sawdust, but steel.

Del was the wrong woman for Cordova. She, Deborah, was the right woman. Even she would admit that. Deborah intuitively knew more about people, at a glance, than weeks of acquaintance would tell her. She had known Cordova's wife—his individuality—the moment she saw him. He was gentle of soul, though hard of will. He was kindly, decent. A woman like Del, with her greedy ambition, would kill everything fine within him. She, Deborah, would make the perfect wife for him.

This wasn't conceit. She knew she had beauty, and she also knew that it was not an obvious beauty. But men who saw her twice lived tried to look at her a third time. Her spell was not as instantaneous as Del's, but surer in the long run.

But, though she argued until June's early dawn, though she had, at no time, an intention of receding from her position, the hot blush of shame came back again and again. We can argue as we will about the benefits to be derived from wrongdoing, but if we have conscience, we always go back to conscience.

Cordova telephoned shortly before 9. Through the long night, he too, had suffered agonies, but he had conquered himself. The girl loved him; she thought he loved her; she would never be able to guess, by faintest intimation, that he was anything but an eager lover.

"Sleep well?" he asked.

"Certainly not. Did you?" She stared at her own brassiness.

"One usually doesn't on the night

SYNOPSIS.

Former United States Senator Carmichael amazes Richard Cordova, Assistant District Attorney, by calmly announcing that he is the Mayor of New York City.

City may be—Richard Cordova's Marine and Grenfell, political powers are present. At the camp are the former Senator's two nieces, Del and Deborah Carmichael. It is to Del his thoughts turn, and he writes to her—tells her he loves her.

A girl—a beautiful girl—tries to pick him up. Grady, a newspaper reporter, steps forward, orders the girl away. Grady tells him his theory: Cordova's enemies, who are Carmichael's enemies, do not want to win that Drovers and Builders case. They are plotting to discredit him, to force him out of office!

Cordova waits for a letter from Maine. None comes, however, for Del Carmichael has never received Cordova's letter. Mistaking the "Del" in the address for "Deb," the Carmichael butler had handed the letter to Deborah, and Deborah, in love with Cordova, had opened it, read it, kept it. Returning to his apartment one evening, Cordova finds Deborah awaiting him. She tells him she received his letter, loves him and will marry him. Cordova hesitates—and is lost. He cannot bring himself to tell the girl the truth.

before a wedding," he laughed. He marveled at his own cool audacity.

"I ought to go to my office," he said. "I can arrange for the rest of the week off—just you're marrying a Government employee, my child. Our—honey-moon, he hesitated over the word, "must be brief. Can you take a taxi downtown?"

"I'm capable of that great adventure," she said.

"About noon. If you could come to my office—you wouldn't mind?"

"Of course not, silly," she derided. "At noon?"

"It seems a long time," he ventured.

"Agree," she said.

To his amazement he found himself smiling as he hung up. What on earth kind of man was he? A moment ago, before he telephoned, he had been in blackest despair. Well, there was one thing to be said: Deborah had a light gayety, but nevertheless solidly existent, which would make even a loveless marriage endurable.

He instructed Webbing to pack needed things, and left his apartment. He stopped at Carter's and selected an engagement ring and a wedding ring, the former of square-cut diamonds and the latter a plain platinum band. He paused at a florist's and sent flowers.

He arrived at his office at 10 and found Grady sitting on the desk, flirting outrageously with Miss Searles.

"Got a lot to chat over with you, Dick," said the newspaper man. "Cunning here," he pointed to Miss Searles, "gets along so well with me that she disappears at the slightest hint. She's getting ready to leave the room right now, and she'll spend the evening trying to wheedle out of me all our secrets."

"I can't believe it," said Cordova.

"Well, as a matter of fact it isn't true," admitted the grinning Grady. "Say for the little girl that she's got plenty mind—her business about her."

"Is the matter important, Fred?" asked Cordova.

Grady shrugged.

"No hurry about it, if you're busy."

"I want to get away for a few days," said Cordova. "You see—I'm going to be married today."

Grady jumped for him and grabbed his hand.

"All you needed, young fellow, to make a great person of you."

Miss Searles beamed and blushed, and seemed moved almost to tears, after the fashion of her sex.

"Who is she? Have I got an exclusive story?"

"You have, but I'd rather you didn't print it before the other papers," said Cordova. "It's Dan Carmichael's niece, Miss Deborah Carmichael."

Grady stared at him. He nodded, eyes wide.

"Not the blonde?" he asked.

"The younger one," said Cordova. "Could anything in this world be sweeter?"

Said Grady: Cordova thought he saw a look of relief in the newspaper man's eyes, but put it down to imagination.

Miss Searles seized his hand. "I think it's too wonderful," she gasped. "Oh, I wish I could see her."

Her brown eyes were beaming now, and her hands shook with the excitement that unexpected weddings bring to women. Cordova smiled at her. He needed attentive witnesses something of that sort. Miss Searles would get a thrill that would last all her life at attending the Cordovas at their wedding. And he liked Grady about as well as anyone he knew. Further, there was something vaguely distasteful about asking his friends, any of them. They'd ask questions, try to read back of his answer.

"I'd love it if you and Fred would come along with us and witness the ceremony," he said.

Miss Searles, quite unconsciously, took Grady's hand.

"I'd adore it," she breathed.

"Look what knowing me lets you in for, Cutie," said Grady. "Your boss can't get married without you. That's how important I've made you."

"Oh, you!" said Miss Searles. "Any way to keep it out of the papers for a while, Fred?" asked Cordova.

Grady shook his head.

"City Hall men look over the requests for licenses. Your name is too well known. Is it important?"

"I don't suppose so. I just—hate to be bothered for a while."

"You can't have all the lack that Rockefeller overlooked and hope to keep your wedding out of the papers," laughed Grady. "Listen, I don't want to talk business now. But—pretty soon?"

"Monday!" suggested Cordova.

"O K," said Grady.

"I've some papers now to go over," said Cordova. "If you and

Curtains in Summer.

If your kitchen curtains blow against the screens and are continually getting soiled, cover a couple of dress weights and slip them into each end of the hem. This will keep them in place and save so much laundry.

Orderliness.

Don't forget to have lower hooks in the closet if you wish to teach the youngster to take care of his clothes. He cannot reach those high ones, you know, then the game ceases to be fun but is a nuisance.

So often the lighter shade in the two-toned sports oxfords becomes soiled. Try art gum on this section to clean it. It will look much better than if cleaned with a cleansing fluid and will keep the shoes new-looking longer.

HOOVER REPEATS
CALL FOR ACTION
BY CONGRESS TO BALANCE BUDGET

President Declares Motivations Is Not Partisan and Denounces "Locust Swarm" of Lobbyists Seeking Selfish Privilege.

ASSAILED IN DEBATE
BY THE OPPOSITION

Byrns Asks Why Executive Did Not Cut Own Expenses—"Indictment of Administration"—Criticism by McKellar.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—President Hoover, in a fighting mood today called again for a speedily balancing the budget through the enactment of a reasonable revenue bill and a reduction of Federal expenditures.

In a formal statement read by newspapermen, the President declared the need of the country for a "serious hour" should not be regarded as "a partisan issue." "This is not a controversy between the President and Congress or its members," he asserted with emphasis. "It is an issue of the people against delays and destructive legislation which impairs the credit of the United States." The President smiled as newspapermen entered his office but grew stern when he began reading. After the last word of his brief statement, he snapped: "That is all."

His plea today for speed was the first of many such statements directed to the country to be issued by him, seeking to consolidate an overwhelming weight of public opinion in favor of prompt budget balancing. The President today struck vehemently at what he called "a locust swarm of lobbyists" who haunt the halls of Congress seeking selfish privileges. "The President's statement," he said, "is a declaration of war against the selfish privilege of the lobbyists." "The issue before the country is the re-establishment of confidence and speed toward recovery by ending these delays in balancing the budget through immediate passage of revenue measures and reduction of Government expenditures. It is no partisan issue. This was one of the most important steps in the non-partisan program for restoring stability proposed by me and patriotically accepted by the leaders of both political parties last December. Effective programs, projects, estimates and possibilities for both economy and revenue have been presented and are known in every detail.

"This is not a controversy between the President and Congress or its members. It is an issue of the people against delays and destructive legislation which impairs the credit of the United States. It is also an issue of the people against the locust swarm of lobbyists who haunt the halls of Congress seeking selfish privilege for special groups and sections of the country, misleading members as to the real views of the people by showers of propaganda. "What is urgently required is immediate action upon and conclusion of these questions. This is a serious hour which demands that all elements of the Government and the people rise with stern courage above partisanship to meet the needs of our nation's life."

Assailed by Opposition on Yesterday's Message. The message of Mr. Hoover yesterday demanding that Congress balance the budget and accuse the House of undermining public confidence aroused both houses.

The message is generally regarded in Washington as the most forceful he has sent to Congress. Representative Byrns of Tennessee, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said in a House today that that branch of the President's requests for appropriations by $161,455,101 in addition to passing the $42,000,000 economy bill.

Challenger on Estimates. Another Tennessee Democrat, Senator McKellar, challenged the statement by the President that budget estimates had been $3,000,000 under those of last year, counting the $2,000,000 for...
